Soviets Spurn U.S. Blueprint For A-Test Ban

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union stiff-armed an American compromise move for a nuclear test ban treaty at the reopening of the 17-nation disarmament conference Monday.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin told newsmen the U.S. plan was "no compromise at all in our view."

Then, in his opening speech to the conference, Zorin accused the United States of "stepping up strategic and all other preparations for a nuclear war" while continuing disarmament talks.

That was the Soviet position a month ago when the conference recessed after a three-month session whose only forward step was the adoption of a treaty preamble.

U.S. Delegate Arthur H. Dean again assured the conference the United States considers world disarmament a matter of priority. He said the Soviet Union, for its part, "has significantly retreated on the nuclear test ban treaty."

On his arrival Saturday, Dean said the United States and Britain were ready to drop insistence on internationally staffed seismic detection stations inside Russia if the Soviet Union would be willing to accept international inspections on its territory.

Zorin told the news conference Russia had already made its own compromise by accepting a neutralist proposal as a negotiating basis. This would provide for on-site inspections only by invitation of the country where a suspicious event took place.

"We are prepared to conclude a test ban treaty on the basis of the neutralist proposal and on no other basis," Zorin said.

The new Western plan for a test ban was not introduced at the conference itself. Delegates have seen a test ban treaty as the only possible project for agreement at this stage of world disarmament talks.

Cabinet Resigns In Peru Crisis

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Prime Minister Moreyra Paz Soldan's cabinet resigned Monday night as a result of Peru's presidential election crisis.

One official said the nation's military chiefs will take over the government, probably Tuesday.

Moreyra announced the cabinet resignations after his second emergency meeting with President Manuel Prado in 24 hours.

An unconfirmed report said the cabinet quit in a body after Prado refused to annul the results of the June 10 presidential elections which the armed forces claimed were marred by fraud.

The nation's military leaders turned thumbs down on Victor Raul Haya de la Torre, leader of the Popular Revolutionary Alliance, APRA, who was the top man in popular votes.

Haya de la Torre failed to obtain the required number of votes in the election—one-third plus one—thus handing the issue to Congress, which was scheduled to make a decision July 23.

Military leaders said earlier they would not allow his election by Congress.

Purge Gives Government 'Young' Look

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan swept nine more ministers out of his government Monday night in the second phase of a purge that has rocked the ruling Conservatives.

A weekend of house-cleaning brought 35 new appointments into his administration, threatened by a flight of supporters disenchanted with Conservative policies.

Eleven young men moved into the government Monday for the first time. A total of 16 tried and trusted colleagues of Macmillan were left without jobs.

Seen as a whole, Britain's most far-reaching governmental shake-up since World War II gave the Macmillan government a jaunty, younger and more progressive look. This presumably is aimed to counter the mid-term electoral successes of Jo Grimond's Liberals, who have been particularly successful in luring Conservative voters.

Laborites Jubilant
But at the same time the ousters delighted Labor party opponents of the 68-year-old prime minister because they appeared to have put the Conservative party into its most jittery and confused mood since the 1956 British-French invasion of Suez.

Newspapers normally friendly to the government described Macmillan's purge in terms such as "savage massacre" and "ruthless execution."

Changes Monday were almost exclusively in the middle echelons of the administration, involving ministers of state who do not sit in the Cabinet itself.

Works Minister Replaced
Among the most important firings and hirings:

Lord John Hope, 50, minister of works, replaced by Geoffrey Ripon, 38.

David Renton, 53, minister of state at the Home Office, replaced by Earl Jellicoe, 44, son of World War I hero-victor of Jutland, Adm. Jellicoe.

Kenneth Thompson, 53, parliamentary secretary for education, replaced by Christopher Chataway, 31, former four-minute miler and television commentator.

Macmillan also named his son-in-law, Julian Amery, to be aviation minister in place of Peter Thorneycroft, who has moved to the defense ministry. Amery had been air minister.

After streaking to an altitude of 107,000 feet at a speed of 3,733 miles an hour, the veteran Space Agency pilot nosed over for a series of seven down-the-staircase hops.

In the final two of these maneuvers, Walker slowed his speed from 2,200 m.p.h. to 1,100 m.p.h. in 51 seconds. The upcoming Dynasor space glider is expected to use similar maneuvers in returning from orbit.

The Federal Reserve Board's eagerly awaited index of industrial output, one of the first indicators to arrive which could re-year, the impact of Wall Street's "Black Monday," rose to 117.8 of mines, mills and utilities was the smallest in any month since the recovery caught its second Council.

Senate, House Fail To Settle Prestige Feud

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate and House failed again Monday to end a months-long prestige feud that has knotted the federal purse-strings. And a new deadlock between the chambers began forming off-stage.

Representatives of the two appropriations committees met on neutral ground to seek an end to procedural differences which have blocked passage of all bills to provide money to operate the government in the newly started fiscal year.

Temporary, stop-gap legislation is enabling departments to continue meeting payrolls through this month.

The conferees' closed session resulted in no settlement but did produce an agreement to meet again Tuesday.

While this stalemate held firm, another one was threatened over farm legislation.

The Senate has passed the strict-controls farm bill backed by President Kennedy. The House killed this legislation and now is working on a substitute which, in effect, merely a one-year extension of the present grain controls.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Democratic Senate leader, predicted Monday that if the House passes its bill the Senate will reject it and substitute its own tight-controls measure. This would force a conference which would be likely to produce another deadlock, in view of the sharply different positions the two chambers already have taken.

Humphrey said he feels that if there is any farm bill at all it will have to be produced by a conference committee reconciling what undoubtedly would be very wide differences.

Railroads Get Green Light But Risk Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Mediation Board withdrew from the railroad work rules dispute Monday, making it possible for the lines to put the changes into effect that would cost thousands of locomotive firemen from their jobs.

The action by the board leaves the carriers free to put the changes into effect in 30 days. But the five train-operating unions involved in the dispute have threatened to strike if the changes are made.

Consumers Council May Be Named Soon

Allied Proposal To Ease Border Crisis Rebuffed

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union rejected proposals by the Western Big Three Monday for a meeting of the four military commanders in Berlin to try to ease the city's crisis and accused the United States of activity supporting "hostile actions" there.

The Soviet notes to the United States, Britain and France, dated July 14, were distributed by the official Soviet Tass News Agency. There were in reply to Allied notes of June 25 proposing a four-power commanders meeting before the border incidents along the wall cause even more serious trouble.

U.S. Interference Charged
The Russian notes said the Western-proposed Berlin talks "cannot but evoke surprise." The one to Washington accused the United States of trying to interfere in the home affairs of the East German Communist regime and said Russia does not consider the subject discussable "on the quadripartite or any other level."

Britain and France expressed disappointment at the Soviet rejection. In Washington, State Department spokesman Lincoln White said the United States regretted the tone of the Soviet note. He said the Allied proposals were designed to find a practical solution to the situation resulting from erection of the Berlin wall.

The Soviets said Fascist and revenge-seeking elements in West Berlin "are creating a situation which cannot but arouse the concern of states interested in maintaining peace and order in the area."

"Provocations" Encouraged
The Soviet government also calls attention to the fact that diplomatic representations do not produce the results which the Soviet Union, as a state allied with the G.D.R. (East Germany), could have counted on," the notes said.

Russia said responsibility for the immediate consequences of alleged Berlin provocations "will be borne by those who organize or support the unbridled provocations and adventures."

The note accused West Germany of encouraging "armed raids, murders, blowing up of border installations and other criminal actions" and said these were not separate incidents but aggressive acts against the Communists planned in advance. It said Western suggestions the East Berlin police were responsible for border incidents by shooting at refugees were far from true.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Three air crashes and an ambush took 51 lives in three days, in the camps of American servicemen and their Vietnamese allies.

Five of the dead were Americans, and five others are missing.

Worst of the air disasters in the of the two-engine C47 caught fire and crashed on take-off at Kon-tum Airport, 260 miles northeast of Saigon near a guerrilla-infested region close to the Laos border. There were four survivors, all Vietnamese.

Ground search parties in the same general area were unable to find a U.S. enlisted man missing from a wrecked and burned Army helicopter shot down Sunday by Communist guerrillas.

The charred bodies of two U.S. Army officers and an enlisted man were found in the wreckage. Nearby, the searchers found a dead Vietnamese officer and a wounded soldier.

The only other certain survivor was a U.S. Army captain, said to have been the pilot, who was found wandering in the jungle five miles from the scene. He had suffered only bruises and the story of how he escaped was not learned immediately.

The helicopter apparently was attempting to spot a band of about 300 guerrillas who stormed a mountain village near the Laos border and captured a number of prisoners.

Seven planes and six helicopters searched until dark for the wreckage of the third aircraft, a U.S. Air Force transport, which was believed to have crashed on Sunday against a mountain somewhere en route from Saigon to Ban Me Thuot, 160 miles northeast of here. The C123 had an American crew of four.

Douglas, Aerospace Unions Agree On Pact

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Douglas Aircraft Co. and two aerospace unions agreed Monday on a new three-year contract granting an immediate 5-to-8-cent hourly pay boost and other benefits.

The settlement came just a week before 125,000 union workers were scheduled to strike at the nation's missile and space plants and bases.

Union sources saw the pact as a possible pace-setter for five other big aerospace companies still negotiating with the International Association of Machinists and the United Aerospace Workers, both AFL-CIO.

Record Opium Cache Seized

ROME (AP)—U.S. narcotics agents reported Monday they had helped Turkish police in seizing a record quantity of opium—enough to have brought American dope pushers $7 million.

The U.S. agents said 924 pounds of opium had been confiscated at Menye, 80 miles from Izmir, on July 13. The agents said this was the biggest seizure in which they had participated in this area since starting the Mediterranean operations 14 years ago.

On July 8, the U.S. agents said, another 110 pounds of opium was seized at Bolvadin, Turkey, after a gun battle.

The American agents, who have their headquarters here, said three Turks were arrested at Bolvadin but that several escaped in the gun fight.

French Assembly Backs De Gaulle Atom Force Plan

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly early Tuesday endorsed President De Gaulle's plan for an independent French nuclear striking force.

A motion of censure against Premier Georges Pompidou, aimed at the government's nuclear policies, was defeated.

A total of 206 deputies voted in favor of the motion.

Under assembly rules, a total of 241 was required for the motion to pass. Members of the 552-parliamentary action under the Fifth Republic. But there was little doubt the motion was really aimed at De Gaulle whose policies Pompidou is carrying out.

The motion's immediate target was Premier Georges Pompidou, since the president is immune to parliamentary action under the Fifth Republic. But there was little doubt the motion was really aimed at De Gaulle whose policies Pompidou is carrying out.

Influential Demos Join Drive To Kill Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department insisted Monday that instead of granting favors to Billie Sol Estes it was more severe with him than with other grain operators.

Dabney Townsend, acting chief of the U.S. Warehouse Branch, Agricultural Marketing Service, said:

"Of all the bonds set above $200,000 on judgment alone, Estes' was the highest."

Townsend said other grain-storage operators had higher bonds than the $700,000 set for Estes' warehouses, but in each case other factors were involved.

However, he told the House government operations subcommittee the procedure for establishing ment showed favoritism in January 1961 when it dropped previous plans to boost Estes grain-storage bond from $700,000 to $1 million. Soviet rejection.

Defense Chief Acts To Trim Dollar Drain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara opened a drive Monday to reduce the overseas dollar-drain by another $900 million a year without cutting U.S. fighting power abroad.

"This objective is to be achieved without reducing our combat effectiveness abroad or creating hardship for the individual serviceman or his dependents," McNamara told a news conference.

The aim is to reach the objective by 1966, with more than half of the $900 million savings coming overseas, most of which is in Europe.

"It's going to be a tough job," the Pentagon chief said.

McNamara acknowledged that the three-year drive to cut the dollar-drain to $1 billion a year may increase the defense budget now running close to $50 billion.

He stressed that $600 million in savings so far from a 1961 level of $2.6 billion payments deficit was achieved at a time when the United States actually was increasing its military commitments abroad because of the Berlin and Southeast Asia crises.

In planning the new offensive, McNamara ordered 12 major studies of various approaches to cutting dollar outlays.

McNamara said "we are not thinking of stopping the flow of dependents' overseas. Military families only recently began traveling to Europe again after an eight-month ban which was imposed in part to save dollars."

He said "we are hopeful we can expand" a so-far experimental program of rotating 1,500-man Army battle groups to Europe for short tours of duty without their wives and children.

Rusk Prepares For Geneva Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk heads Thursday for Geneva and more talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko despite a fresh rebuff from Moscow.

Rusk's travel plans were announced Monday almost simultaneously with Soviet rejection of a Western request for a conference to discuss ways to end violent incidents along the Berlin wall before they can mushroom into more serious outbreaks.

The secretary is going to Geneva to participate in wrapping up the agreement which it is hoped will put Laos on a permanent basis of neutrality. But he is allowing himself plenty of time to discuss Berlin, disarmament and other East-West issues with Gromyko and with Allied foreign ministers.

A Soviet note rejecting a June 25 Western proposal for talks on the Berlin wall was criticized by the State Department Press Officer Lincoln White as unresponsive. The British Foreign Office also expressed disappointment a Soviet rejection.

Main Center Of Discord, Editors Told

Soviet Boss Boasts Of Rocket That Can 'Hit Fly In Space'

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev, in an interview with 13 American editors released Monday, hammered hard on the theme that Berlin is the main center of East-West dispute and that it must be settled by the removal of Western troops from the city.

He said he can not understand why the United States, Britain and France cling to their "military bridgehead" because as long as they are there they raise the heat of East-West relations.

But he set no new deadline for the Westerners departure. "We shall not hurry, but neither shall we tarry," he said.

The premier, in the wide-ranging 2½-hour interview in the Kremlin last Friday, again asserted that the Soviet Union has a global rocket that cannot be knocked down by another missile.

And he said he hopes reports the United States has better means of detecting nuclear tests will cause it to abandon the demand for international inspectors to police a nuclear test ban.

No Atom Arms For China

He also declared the Soviet Union is not negotiating and has not negotiated with any power—presumably Red China—about arming them with atomic weapons.

"I am not boasting," he said near the end of the interview around a green table in his conference room, "but we actually have a global rocket which cannot be destroyed by any antirocket means, and I know, if anyone does, what antirocket means are, because we do have them."

"You can say our rocket hits a fly in outer space."

He spent 37 minutes of the interview, however, in stressing to the editors seated about him the importance of the Berlin issue.

Led by Lee Hills, executive editor of the Knight newspapers and president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the editors have been touring the Soviet Union for three weeks.

Transcript Revised
The editors said Khrushchev referred to Berlin as the main issue. But the official Russian transcript toned this down to "one of the main obstacles."

This was one of several changes spotted in the official text. At Khrushchev's request, publication of the interview was held up until the transcript could be made ready.

The interview was released on the same day the Soviet Foreign Office in notes to the United States, Britain and France rejected their June 25 proposal that a four-power meeting be called in Berlin to discuss means of easing tension caused by shootings and other violence along the Berlin wall.

Khrushchev charged the three Western powers cling to West Berlin as a "military bridgehead" and "a source of tension."

If they would only depart, he said, the Soviet Union is willing to join them in a solemn pledge of noninterference with West Berlin life, a guarantee to be "sealed with the seal of the United Nations."

"If this question were settled, we would remove the main obstacle which stands in the way of relaxation of tension and sets us apart at loggerheads with the U.S.," Brit-

Production Rose In June Despite Market Collapse

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industrial production edged up in June despite the blow to business confidence delivered by the May 28 stock market collapse. The gain was only a tiny one but some economists were surprised there was no drop.

The Federal Reserve Board's eagerly awaited index of industrial output, one of the first indicators to arrive which could reflect the impact of Wall Street's "Black Monday," rose to 117.8 per cent of the 1957 average, up from 117.5 in May.

The report gave reason to hope that the economy would weather the gain, because the automobile industry has scheduled production for a rate well above June's motor car assemblies, which were slowed by a strike against Ford.

"The Soviet government also calls attention to the fact that diplomatic representations do not produce the results which the Soviet Union, as a state allied with the G.D.R. (East Germany), could have counted on," the notes said.

Russia said responsibility for the immediate consequences of alleged Berlin provocations "will be borne by those who organize or support the unbridled provocations and adventures."

The note accused West Germany of encouraging "armed raids, murders, blowing up of border installations and other criminal actions" and said these were not separate incidents but aggressive acts against the Communists planned in advance. It said Western suggestions for East Berlin police were responsible for border incidents by shooting at refugees were far from true.

Ground search parties in the same general area were unable to find a U.S. enlisted man missing from a wrecked and burned Army helicopter shot down Sunday by Communist guerrillas.

The charred bodies of two U.S. Army officers and an enlisted man were found in the wreckage. Nearby, the searchers found a dead Vietnamese officer and a wounded soldier.

The only other certain survivor was a U.S. Army captain, said to have been the pilot, who was found wandering in the jungle five miles from the scene. He had suffered only bruises and the story of how he escaped was not learned immediately.

The helicopter apparently was attempting to spot a band of about 300 guerrillas who stormed a mountain village near the Laos border and captured a number of prisoners.

Seven planes and six helicopters searched until dark for the wreckage of the third aircraft, a U.S. Air Force transport, which was believed to have crashed on Sunday against a mountain somewhere en route from Saigon to Ban Me Thuot, 160 miles northeast of here. The C123 had an American crew of four.

Red China Wins U.N. Unit Voice

PARIS (AP)—The way was cleared Monday for the first time to give Communist China a voice but not a vote in an organization sponsored by the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).

A resolution pushed through by Soviet bloc made it possible for any nation—Red China if it desires—to take part in discussions of the Conference for the Protection of Cultural Works during Wartime.

Before the change only member countries of UNESCO or the United Nations could take part in discussions of the 49-nation conference.

The conference was set up in 1954. The United States is not a member of the conference because it has not yet ratified the treaty.

Consumers Council May Be Named Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House indicated Monday President Kennedy will name a special council this week to help plan government programs protecting the nation's consumers.

In his presidential campaign, Kennedy pledged to appoint an assistant in the White House to keep track of consumer interests.

Last winter, in message to the Congress making recommendations to safeguard consumers, the President said he was instructing the Council of Economic Advisers to form a Consumers Advisory Council.

The consumers council, he said, would advise government departments and agencies on broad economic policy, programs to protect consumer needs and improvements in the flow of consumer research material to the public.

Los Angeles (AP)—The Douglas Aircraft Co. and two aerospace unions agreed Monday on a new three-year contract granting an immediate 5-to-8-cent hourly pay boost and other benefits.

The settlement came just a week before 125,000 union workers were scheduled to strike at the nation's missile and space plants and bases.

Union sources saw the pact as a possible pace-setter for five other big aerospace companies still negotiating with the International Association of Machinists and the United Aerospace Workers, both AFL-CIO.

Helicopter Taxi Lands In River

This twin-engine passenger helicopter made an emergency landing in New York's East River yesterday after losing an engine. The aircraft took off from Newark Airport with 19 passengers and three crewmen aboard for the five-minute flight to Wall Street Heliport on the East River. As the 'copter prepared to land, an engine quit and the aircraft came down short of the landing area. The helicopter was towed ashore with no injuries to the occupants. (AP Photofax)

10 Americans Dead, Missing In S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Three air crashes and an ambush took 51 lives in three days, in the camps of American servicemen and their Vietnamese allies.

Five of the dead were Americans, and five others are missing.

Worst of the air disasters in the jungle war with Viet Cong guerrillas was the crash Monday of a seat Hove who abstain or who troop-laden Vietnamese air force are absent are considered favorable to the government in such names troopers and a U.S. Air Force flight instructor.

The two-engine C47 caught fire and crashed on take-off at Kon Tum Airport, 260 miles northeast of Saigon near a guerrilla-infested region close to the Laos border. There were four survivors, all Vietnamese.

French Assembly Backs De Gaulle Atom Force Plan

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly early Tuesday endorsed President De Gaulle's plan for an independent French nuclear striking force.

A motion of censure against Premier Georges Pompidou, aimed at the government's nuclear policies, was defeated.

A total of 206 deputies voted in favor of the motion.

Under assembly rules, a total of 241 was required for the motion to pass. Members of the 552-seat National Assembly, however, are absent are considered favorable to the government in such names troopers and a U.S. Air Force flight instructor.

Record Opium Cache Seized

ROME (AP)—U.S. narcotics agents reported Monday they had helped Turkish police in seizing a record quantity of opium—enough to have brought American dope pushers $7 million.

The U.S. agents said 924 pounds of opium had been confiscated at Menye, 80 miles from Izmir, on July 13. The agents said this was the biggest seizure in which they had participated in this area since starting the Mediterranean operations 14 years ago.

On July 8, the U.S. agents said, another 110 pounds of opium was seized at Bolvadin, Turkey, after a gun battle.

The American agents, who have searched their headquarters here, said three Turks were arrested at Bolvadin but that several escaped in the gun fight.

The 37-year-old Pecos, Tex., operator currently faces fraud charges and last week was declared bankrupt.

Defense Chief Acts To Trim Dollar Drain

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara opened a drive Monday to reduce the overseas dollar-drain by another $900 million a year without cutting U.S. fighting power abroad.

"This objective is to be achieved without reducing our combat effectiveness abroad or creating hardship for the individual serviceman or his dependents," McNamara told a news conference.

The aim is to reach the objective by 1966, with more than half of the $900 million savings coming through reductions in spending overseas, most of which is done in Europe.

"It's going to be a tough job," the Pentagon chief said.

McNamara acknowledged that the three-year drive to cut the dollar-drain to $1 billion a year may increase the defense budget now running close to $50 billion.

He stressed that $600 million in savings so far from a 1961 level of $2.6 billion payments deficit was achieved at a time when the United States actually was increasing its military commitments abroad because of the Berlin and Southeast Asia crises.

In planning the new offensive, McNamara ordered 12 major studies of various approaches to cutting dollar outlays.

McNamara said "we are not thinking of stopping the flow of dependents' overseas. Military families only recently began traveling to Europe again after an eight-month ban which was imposed in part to save dollars."

He said "we are hopeful we can expand" a so far experimental program of rotating 1,500-man Army battalions to Europe for short tours of duty without their wives and children.

Rusk Prepares For Geneva Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk heads Thursday for Geneva and more talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko despite a fresh rebuff from Moscow.

Rusk's travel plans were announced Monday almost simultaneously with Soviet rejection of a Western request for a conference to discuss ways to end violent incidents along the Berlin wall before they can mushroom into more serious outbreaks.

The secretary is going to Geneva to participate in wrapping up the agreement which it is hoped will put Laos on a permanent basis of neutrality. But he is allowing himself plenty of time to discuss Berlin, disarmament and other East-West issues with Gromyko and with Allied foreign ministers.

A Soviet note rejecting a June 25 Western proposal for talks on the Berlin wall was criticized by the Agriculture Department Press Officer ment showed favoritism in January Lincoln White as unresponsive. The British Foreign Office also expressed disappointment a the bond from $700,000 to $1 million. Soviet rejection.

Main Center Of Discord, Editors Told

Soviet Boss Boasts Of Rocket That Can 'Hit Fly In Space'

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev, in an interview with 13 American editors released Monday, hammered hard on the theme that Berlin is the main center of East-West dispute and that it must be settled by the removal of Western troops from the city.

He said he can not understand why the United States, Britain and France cling to their "military bridgehead" because as long as they are there they raise the heat of East-West relations.

But he set no new deadline for the Westerners departure.

"We shall not hurry, but neither shall we tarry," he said.

The premier, in the wide-ranging 2½-hour interview in the Kremlin last Friday, again asserted that the Soviet Union has a global rocket that cannot be knocked down by another missile.

And he said he hopes reports the United States has better means of detecting nuclear tests will cause it to abandon the demand for international inspectors to police a nuclear test ban.

No Atom Arms For China
He also declared the Soviet Union is not negotiating and has not negotiated with any power—presumably Red China—about arming them with atomic weapons.

"I am not boasting," he said near the end of the interview around a green table in his conference room, "but we actually have a global rocket which cannot be destroyed by any antirocket means, and I know, if anyone does, what antirocket means are, because we do have them."

"You can say our rocket hits a fly in outer space."

He spent 37 minutes of the interview, however, in stressing to the editors seated about him the importance of the Berlin issue.

Led by Lee Hills, executive editor of the Knight newspapers and president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the editors have been touring the Soviet Union for three weeks.

Transcript Revised
The editors said Khrushchev referred to Berlin as the main issue. But the official Russian transcript toned this down to "one of the main obstacles."

This was one of several changes spotted in the official text. At Khrushchev's request, publication of the interview was held up until the transcript could be made ready.

The interview was released on the same day the Soviet Foreign Office in notes to the United States, Britain and France rejected their June 25 proposal that a four-power meeting be called in Berlin to discuss means of easing tension caused by shootings and other violence along the Berlin wall.

Khrushchev charged the three Western powers cling to West Berlin as a "military bridgehead" and "a source of tension."

If they would only depart, he said, the Soviet Union is willing to join them in a solemn pledge of noninterference with West Berlin, a guarantee to be "sealed with the seal of the United Nations."

"If this question were settled, we would remove the main obstacle which stands in the way of relaxation of tension and sets us loggerheads with the U.S., Britain and France," he said.

Appeals Court Told School Bus Petition Circulators Knew Some Names Invalid

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Court of Appeals has been told that persons attesting to the validity of signatures on a petition to bring a school bus measure to referendum knew some of the names were invalid.

"We believe it obvious that the falsity of the affidavits made by the circulators of the petitions... was necessarily known to those circulators," said attorneys for Del. Herbert H. Tyler who sponsored the measure in 1961 to allow parochial school children to ride on public school buses in Baltimore County.

The attorneys for the Baltimore County delegate made the statement in briefs filed with the Court of Appeals in advance of a hearing next Monday on whether the attorney general acted properly in invalidating some of the petitions.

"They (the circulators) made oath to the fact of their own personal knowledge all signers to the paper to which they had made affidavit were in fact residents of the county and state as set opposite their names."

Tyler said the attorney general, however, found on 761 of the 1,224 papers at least one name of a person not registered in the district or listed next to his name.

"The circulator, therefore, made oath that he knew something that he must have known he did not know. His oath was false in fact and that which is false in fact is fraudulent at law where an oath of personal knowledge is concerned," he argued.

Man, 72, Dies Of Malnutrition

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — A 72-year-old man died in Montgomery County General Hospital Monday about 12 hours after police found him suffering from malnutrition in a home shared with his twin daughters and 18 dogs.

One of the daughters was charged by county police with non-support of her father. The other daughter, an invalid, is in satisfactory condition at the hospital.

Police identified the victim as Christopher J. Brady of Brown's Corner, Spencerville, a retired government printing office employee.

Police charged Lucille A. Brady, 39, with non-support of her father. Investigators said they were forced to break down two doors in the one-story home before they found the man under a bed.

Dr. Morino Sorriell said after an autopsy that Brady's death was due to a liver ailment caused by lack of food.

Most Of State Still Needs Rain

By The Associated Press

Light rain fell on Maryland's greasy soil for the second straight day Monday.

But it was only a drop in the bucket in most sections. Farmers continued wishing for a long, steady downfall while foresters kept their fingers crossed.

H. C. Buckingham, a state forester, said the danger of woods catching on fire still was great. Timber on the Eastern Shore faced the greatest threat since Western Maryland has received most of the recent rains.

Peach and apple growers in the Hancock area of Washington area welcomed another appreciable downfall Monday. However, on the Eastern Shore, the amount hardly was worthy of measurement.

The dampness did save Baltimoreans from going on rations. The Bureau of Water Supply postponed an order that residents could use water for sprinkling lawns or washing cars only every other day. The bureau had been ready to impose the ban Tuesday.

Agriculture Dept. Claims It Was Tougher On Estes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some influential Democrats threw their weight Monday behind a Republican effort to kill President Kennedy's compromise health care plan for the elderly in Tuesday's showdown vote in the Senate.

And a cry of intimidation was raised by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, one of the few Republican supporters of the plan. He complained vigorously about a telegram in which he said 22 doctors had warned him:

"We strongly advise you not to be a party to pulling Democratic chestnuts out of the fire."

However, the verbal fireworks did not represent any change in viewpoint by any of the senators who spoke. It mainly pointed up that the outcome will depend on which way the break in party-line sentiment swings heavily.

Both sides were cautiously predicting victory as the Senate talked its way toward the climax.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., an author of the medical care bill passed by Congress in 1960, minus the Social Security approach President Kennedy advocates, told the Senate:

"Let's not kid the American people. Let's not kid ourselves." Kerr shouted that the administration bill does not provide physicians' fees for anyone and that

This extra burden, Kerr estimated, would be at least $35 billion. But Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., also opposing the plan, put it free.

500 Scorn Safety Hats, Sent Home

BALTIMORE (AP) — An official of the steelworkers union said the Bethlehem Steel Co. sent about 500 workers home Monday because they refused to wear safety helmets.

Ed Plato, president of Local 2609, said the company dismissed most members of the day shift at the cold-strip mill when they reported for work Monday morning.

Plato said the workers complained that the hats are "hot, uncomfortable and cumbersome." Company officials were unavailable for comment.

Animals Found Dead After Balloon Flight

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (UPI) —Two rhesus monkeys and four hamsters, sent on a 25-mile high balloon ride to help pave the way for a manned trip to the moon, were found dead Monday after their capsules parachuted to earth in a Canadian swamp.

Scientists from Ames Aeronautical Laboratory, Sunnyvale, Calif., said the animals died because of failure of the "life support system" that included control of their oxygen supply and temperature.

They said the animals might have died from lack of oxygen or freezing. They hoped to determine the exact cause, and the reason for the malfunction, in studies at Goose Bay, Labrador.

The 1,920-mile flight beneath a balloon 300 feet wide and 385 feet tall was the first of five planned to check the effects of cosmic radiation on future moon travelers.

ain and France." was the way the editors recalled he put it.

Hills led off the questioning by asking Khrushchev what he considers to be the main problems dividing East and West.

With a strong plug for peaceful coexistence and a denunciation of the United States for having "assumed the ignoble leadership in the struggle against communism," Khrushchev turned to Germany and Berlin.

He claimed "there is much in common in our positions on this question," a statement that intrigued the editors. But Khrushchev did not tell them what these common positions are, saying only that talks are still going on and he did not want to embarrass American policy makers.

Worthy's Sister On Protest Fast

BOSTON (AP) — Miss Mary A. Worthy, 48, said Monday she is in the sixth day of a hunger strike to call attention to her brother's indictment for reentering the United States from Cuba without a valid passport.

Miss Worthy said she seeks to have the charges dropped against William Worthy, Negro newsman for the Baltimore Afro-American. He is scheduled to go on trial Aug. 7 in Miami, Fla.

She said she seeks, as an alternative, to have the trial shifted from Miami to Washington or New York because of what she described as the hostile attitude many Cubans who fled their homeland hold against Worthy.

Miss Worthy said she advised Attorney Gen. Robert F. Kennedy of her intentions to refrain from eating in a July 11 letter she said she forwarded to the "Department of Injustice."

She told newsmen she has subsisted only on black coffee and juices since last Wednesday.

Worthy, a U.S. citizen, had his passport taken away from him in 1957 on his return from a trip to China in defiance of the State Department travel ban to that country. Subsequently, he went to Cuba.

"We strongly advise you not to be a party to pulling Democratic chestnuts out of the fire."

However, the verbal fireworks did not represent any change in viewpoint by any of the senators who spoke. It mainly pointed up that the outcome will depend on which way the break in party-line sentiment swings heaviest.

Both sides were cautiously predicting victory as the Senate talked its way toward the climax.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., an author of the medical care bill passed by Congress in 1960, minus the Social Security approach President Kennedy advocates, told the Senate:

"Let's not kid the American people. Let's not kid ourselves."

Kerr shouted that the administration bill does not provide physicians' fees for anyone and that

This extra burden, Kerr estimated, would be at least $35 billion. But Sen. Russell B. Long, longer in hospitals if their care D-La., also opposing the plan, put it free.

Postal Unit To Be Honored Upon Return

A welcome home ceremony will be held for the returning Cumberland Army Reserve unit, the 729th Postal Unit, that was called to active service last August 1.

The program will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday, August 2, in the Allegany County Soldiers' Memorial Center, the Army Reserve armory at Cresaptown.

The speakers will be Thomas F. Conlon Sr., Cumberland postmaster, and John J. Rowan, president of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners.

A reception will be held following the ceremonies.

Since being called into active duty, the local unit has been serving in post offices at Fort Meade. They were called up in President Kennedy's edict of July 1961.

August 1 will be their last day of full-time service and it will be spent at the Reserve center at Cresaptown.

The original group that left here has remained intact. Capt. Thomas P. Cumiskey Jr., assistant postmaster at Cumberland, is the commanding officer and first sergeant is Thomas A. Carscaden, who was a Cumberland mail carrier before being called up.

Others in the unit are S-Sgt. Paul A. Nicholson, Sp Robert C. Bennett, Sp4 Leslie J. Blank, Sp4 James W. Harden, Sp4 James L. Martin.

Sp4 Ronald O. Sapp, Pfc. Edward F. Barley, Pfc. Harold D. Hahn, Pfc. Charles S. Kaminsky, Pfc. George F. Smiley and Pfc. Paul Brode.

Use Of Blacktop On Walks May Be Banned By Council

The use of blacktop to repair sidewalks or walkways is expected to be banned by the Mayor and Council.

Street Commissioner Lucile Roeder said that the city as well as its citizens have been guilty of using blacktop to repair sidewalks and that the ordinance calling for use of burnt brick or concrete should apply to both.

In answer to a question by Finance Commissioner Frederick J. Hill about the present sidewalk ordinance, Mrs. Roeder said she wanted to see more "teeth put in to it."

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said some emergency provisions should be provided in event that weather prevents repair with concrete or brick.

Council agreed to have City Attorney Hugh A. McMullen revamp the present ordinance to restrict the type of material used in sidewalk repair.

On another matter, Mrs. Roeder pointed out that the city's ordinance prohibiting signs is being violated, particularly on the approaches to the city.

She said the ordinance should be enforced, and where signs are posted contrary to law, those responsible be given the opportunity to remove them before action is taken.

Such signs can be erected only with permission of the Mayor and Council or engineer. City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum said no sign is permitted within 10 feet of the edge of the pavement without permission and that since the ordinance was passed 18 months ago all signs, with the exception of one, have been in violation of the city law.

This is particularly true in the outlying sections, he added.

Mrs. Roeder said the individual responsible should be notified first, then the Police Department to enforce the ordinance.

Commissioner Keegan suggested all service club signs be placed on one pole and Mrs. Roeder said

Local Guard Unit Returns From Training

The First Medium Tank Battalion, 115th Armor, the National Guard companies from Cumberland, Frostburg, Hagerstown and Oakland, have arrived back after 15 days at Camp Pickett, Va., with the citizen soldiers tanned and tired after rugged training.

Major Paul T. Lord, battalion commander, said the evaluation of the companies and headquarters by Regular Army inspectors was very good and in most instances the ratings were excellent and superior.

Much of the two weeks was spent in extensive tank tactical training and firing of the .90 mm tank guns.

In fact, 1,000 rounds were expended, both high explosive and shot, the commander said.

Referring to the rugged training, Major Lord said the men bivouaced in the field, but outside of two days of rain when many got soaked, the only "combatants" were chiggers. The sick list was kept at a minimum.

The food in the field kitchens was better than usual, both from the standpoint of preparation and quality.

All tank companies of the battalion took the Army training tests for tank platoons.

The two-week period was highlighted by a visit of two generals from the Continental Army Command, Lt. Gen. Lewis W. Truman, commander of the CAC, and Gen. Hubert.

They were accompanied by Major Gen. William C. Purnell, commander of the 29th Division of which the 115th Armor is a component, and Brig. Gen. William J. Witte, division artillery commander.

On the trip down and back the battalion converged and dispersed at Winchester for the 270-mile trip. There were 53 vehicles in the convoy of 435 National Guardsmen.

City Hoping To Place Lots On Tax Books

The Mayor and Council yesterday agreed to undertake a drive to get on the tax books a number of city-owned lots which might be desirable for building purposes.

One of these, a lot at the corner of Ridgewood Avenue and Warwick Avenue, will be offered for bids next Monday and set off the discussion yesterday.

Street Commissioner Lucile Roeder said plans for sale of the lot were made in the last administration and that there are considerable liens against it.

Mayor Earl Chaney suggested that the city post signs on those lots which it has for sale since people "just going by" who might not otherwise know about the sale, can be informed. Chaney said the Ridgewood-Warwick lot is a valuable piece of property.

Mrs. Roeder said she had asked City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum to prepare a list of lots in all sections of town and to group them together. Their availability will be made known in bulk, she said. Signs will also be posted, she added.

Mayor Chaney said in some cases, property owners adjoining the lots might be interested and should have the opportunity.

Finance Commissioner Frederick J. Hill said he already has a request to purchase other city

WM Railway Police Talk To Group Of Boy Scouts

Top police officials of the Western Maryland Railway spoke to the Explorer Scouts from Baltimore attending Camp Straus Explorer Base on the Allegany-Washington County line on the various aspects of railroad policing.

They were Lt. Bernard F. Beaky, this city, who is in charge of the Western Division, and Lt. J. E. Piquitt, Hagerstown, who heads the Eastern Division.

This is the second year that the Western Maryland police have addressed the Scouts and shown films. Camp Straus' southern boundary is along the railway for a number of miles in rugged, sparsely populated country.

lots and it will be turned over to Nuzum.

It was agreed that a solid policy should be established concerning sale of lots and Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan said "the sooner the better so that the properties can be placed on the tax books."

Lt. Beaky spoke on duties of protecting railroad property and also the benefits of Scouting to a community.

Lt. Piquitt discussed the manner in which railroad police officers obtain commissions and their authority within the state in which they are employed.

Both men are graduates of the National Railroad Police Academy, Chicago, and the Railroad Police School, Baltimore.

They also showed these films, "Clear Track Ahead," "Then It Happened," "Voice of the Book," and "Mr. Lincoln Goes To Gettysburg."

The camp is supervised by James Brown, a teacher and football and basketball coach at Hancock High School.

Funds to set up the camp were provided by Lillie and Aaron Straus of Baltimore for the Baltimore Area Council of Boy Scouts. Any Explorer (older Scout) may attend the camp, however.

AMERICAN OIL RESEARCH DEVELOPED IT...

The Final Step to assure you the Finest Gasoline ever sold—Famous Unleaded AMOCO.

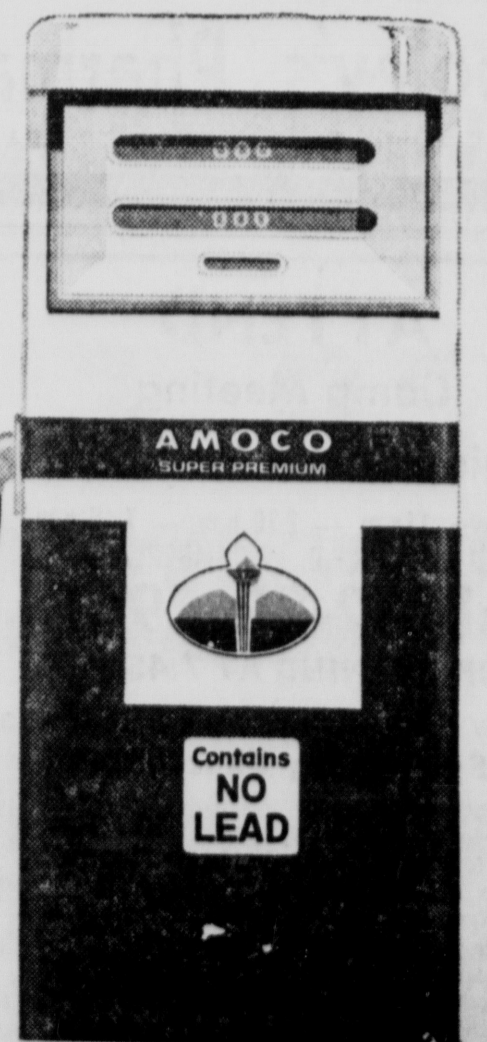

When automotive engineers raised engine compression, they asked for higher octane gasolines—and got it.

Now, to meet today's car needs, they ask for another improvement—gasoline free of the microscopic particles that were no problem a few years ago. These contaminants clog the filter that car makers now put in your fuel line to protect modern precision carburetors. Filter clogging cuts your power and acceleration, can even stop your car.

July Yule Program Is Presented

The Women's Society of World Service of the Ridgeley Evangelical United Brethren Church held its "Christmas in July" program at Constitution Park, Thursday evening. The program is held to help the children overseas have a real Christmas.

A short play, "Christmas in the Country" was presented. The cast included Arthur Swadley, Mrs. Elsie Riggelman, Raymond Swadley, Mrs. Josephine Swadley, Miss Kay Baker and Kim Bradley.

Those participating in the program were Darlene Swadley, Rebecca Jones, Vicki Jones, David Wade, Mary Lea Wade, Joni Frye, Mary Lou Schoonover, and Sylvia Schoonover. The nursery class sang, "Jesus Loves Me" and the primary class sang, "Away in the Manger."

Special Christmas music was sung by Miss Jill Allen and Linda Alderton from Oldtown. A Christmas tree was trimmed and all joined in singing, "Silent Night." The closing prayer was by Rev. George Widmyer.

A picnic was held following the program.

Others attending were Mrs. Elaine Widmyer, Mrs. Louise Swadley, Mrs. Ruth Ella Barr, Miss Vonnie Barr, Miss Denise Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Wade, Lillian Wade, Jennifer Brunelli, Mrs. Mary Fansler, Mrs. Morgan Riley, Sarah Riley, Mrs. Vera Wonders, Mrs. Janelle Barker, Scott Barker, Brenda Snyder, Mrs. Evelyn Muse, Mary Jane Muse, Twila Swadley, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bradley, Brian Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frye, Mrs. Katie Robertson, Mrs. Bessie Fisher, Thomas Riley, Michael Pitznogle, Miss Lucille Wratchford, Mrs. Delphia Phillips, Vonda Davis, Mrs. Evelyn Baker, Oliver Hornick and Mrs. Elma Duer.

North Cumberland Homemakers will hold a covered dish picnic at 6 tonight in Grove 1, Constitution Park.

Business Women's Week Observance To Be Planned

The committee on arrangements for the observance of National Business Women's Week by the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Freda Massara, chairman, Sunset View.

National Business Women's Week will be held October 7-13. Tentative plans for the local celebration include a banquet, probably Tuesday and a style show-card party later in the week.

Mrs. Ethel Northcraft is co-chairman with Mrs. Massara. Others serving with them are Miss Verna Bowling, Mrs. Kathleen Burke, Mrs. Helen Dayton, Mrs. Alice DeHaven, Miss Anna Durst, Miss Millie Gottlieb, Mrs. Stella Hardman, Mrs. Lillian Hast, Mrs. Eva Hogan, Miss Virginia Koegel, Mrs. Dorothy Liebke, Miss Thelma Price, Miss Gerardine Pritchard, Miss Orpha Bonita Pritchard, Mrs. Nadine Skidmore and Mrs. Effie True.

The style show committee is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Catherine Grever. Other members are Miss Rachael Seifarth, Mrs. Deloris Allahashy, Mrs. Regina Cioni, Mrs. Massara and Miss Mary Jo Logsdon.

At a recent meeting of the scholarship committee at the YMCA, plans were made to augment the scholarship loan fund. Parts of the plans were inaugurated with personal contributions from each member.

Social Chart

The Potomac Valley Bridge Club will play at the Fort Cumberland Hotel tonight, instead of the Civic Club house.

A patio party will be held by the Women's Sport Club at 6:30 tonight at the Cumberland Country Club.

The Hap-O-Happy Club will have a covered dish supper tomorrow at 6 in Grove 2, Constitution Park.

The Women's Golf Association will have a luncheon buffet and nine-hole surprise tourney today at 12:30.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

It's No Cinch To Be "Two-Faced"

Applying make-up is a definite art for "two-faced" women. These are the gals blessed (or cursed) with both dry and oily skin placed patchwork-fashion over their faces. If they treat their complexions as one—or the other—they're bound to end up with an uneven effect in constant need of repairs.

So, instead of relying on repairwork to coat their combination complexions, I suggest they thwart Nature with combination makeup.

The technique starts at the time of preparation. When the face is clean and ready for make-up, a rich moisture cream should be smoothed over the dry patches. On most two-faced women, these are found under the eyes, on the forehead near the temples, at the cheekbones and all over the throat. (Those in doubt can identify dry areas as the ones that feel mask-tight after washing and that looked lined and flaky under makeup after a couple of hours.)

Now, on the areas where a two-faced woman really shines, excessive oiliness can be stemmed with dabs of astringent... between the brows, over the nose and around the nostrils, over the lips and down the chin. These are the places, generally, that begin glistening early in the game, showing enlarged pores. Frequent repairwork is going to clog those pores and lend an orange cast to facial color.

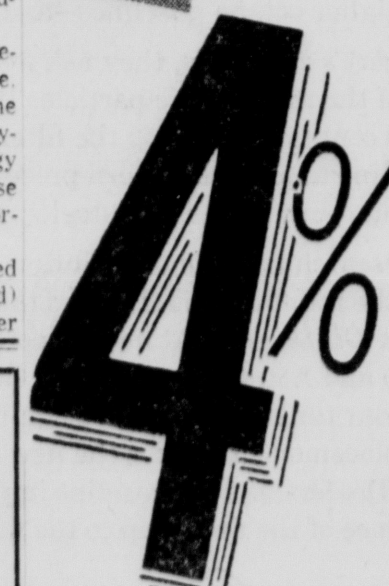

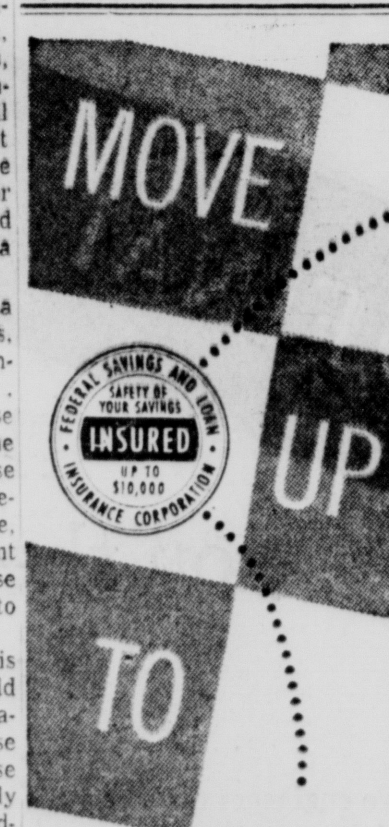

When this dual undercoating is dry, the same technique should be employed in applying foundations... a cream or liquid base over all dry areas, a cake base in similar shade for the oily patches. The art is in the blending!

It's best done in good light, before a triple-mirror, if possible. The cream comes first, then the cake, done deftly with a barely damp sponge (not a wet, soggy one that will thin down the base and water down the color-strength).

Once the two bases are blended where they meet, cool (not cold) water may be pressed all over the face and throat to set the base before powder is puffed on. Final powdering is done to "T" if it is put on horizontally across the forehead, then in a vertical line down over the nose. Skin loveliness—whatever the complexion type—starts early. I recommend that every teenager read "Personality Plus Through Diet," a wealth of basic advice for glowing health. Parents and pre-teens should read it, too.

A copy of this booklet is obtainable by writing me, John Robert Powers, c/o this newspaper, if 25c and a stamped self-addressed envelope is included with each request. Expect delivery within three weeks.

J. R. Class Discusses Activities

The Jean Rowland Circle of Melvin Methodist Church will keep the first aid kit of the church supplied; sponsor a cake and pie sale in conjunction with the church cafeteria supper, July 25, and revised the nursery list at the meeting and wiener roast at the home of Elva Dom, Bedford Road. Each member is to take two Sundays at a time instead of the monthly system. Plans were made for a picnic supper next month. It will be at the home of Betty Adams, Hinkle Road. Norman Manges and Leola McClelland are church cleaners for July.

Deviations on "The Church and the World" were conducted by Violet Wentling, who with Mrs. McClelland talked on the topic. The group sang, "The Church's One Foundation." Judy Sturtz read the Scripture.

The business session was conducted by Marvel Almond, who read a letter from Robert Gnegy, missionary in Bolivia, and Norma Manges read a note from Rev. and Mrs. Dae Hee Park. Mrs. Wentling told of her trip to Westminster. Reports were given by Patricia Rudolph, Norman Manges and Mary Twigg.

Day Camp "Underwater Fantasy" Dance Aug. 11

"An Underwater Fantasy" was chosen as the theme for the annual midsummer dance of the Day Camp Association of the Cumberland Country Club. It was selected at a meeting of the dance committee with Carroll Boggs, club manager, Thursday.

The dance will be held August 11, with music by Dick Lewis' orchestra. The traditional cocktail hour will be held on the patio from 9 until 10, when dancing will begin.

Funds raised by the dance will be used to help pay for the new day camp house, which is being constructed. Tickets for the dance are being distributed to the families of day campers and sale will begin the week of July 20.

Mrs. Robert Brodell and Mrs. Allen Shrager are co-chairmen of the sale.

Members of the dance committee are Mrs. George M. Griffith, Jr., Mrs. Dave Klein, decorations; Mrs. Edward Mattingly, Mrs. Robert Petersen, Mrs. Carlton Brinsfield, Mrs. Brodell, Mrs. Shrager and Mrs. Robert Schaefer, publicity.

Memorial Class Of 1937 Marks 25th Anniversary

Memorial Hospital School of Nursing Class of 1937 held its first reunion in 25 years Saturday.

A tour of the hospital and nurses' home featured the afternoon. Dinner in the evening was at Cas Taylor's Dugout. Miss Carrie Harden, recently retired from the hospital staff, and a supervisor of the class when in training, was guest of honor.

Plans were formulated for another reunion in five years. It was noted that five members of the class are still working in their profession. Mrs. Georgia Hardesty Chandlee, Toledo, Ohio, who is the only female anesthetist in Toledo; Mrs. Theo Rhodes Malone, city, who is visiting nurse for the Allegany County Crippled Children's League; Mrs. Lelia Good Flora, Williamsport, in public health service; Miss Donna Hooper, Ephrata, Pa., supervisor of the operating room in the Ephrata hospital; Mrs. Ethel Perlew, Ephrata, Pa., a visiting school nurse.

Two members of the class died in the past four years. They were Miss Betty Hamilton of Frostburg

July Yule Program Is Presented

The Women's Society of World Service of the Ridgeley Evangelical United Brethren Church held its "Christmas in July" program at Constitution Park, Thursday evening. The program is held to help the children overseas have a real Christmas.

A short play, "Christmas in the Country" was presented. The cast included Arthur Swadley, Mrs. Elsie Riggelman, Raymond Swadley, Mrs. Josephine Swadley, Miss Kay Baker and Kim Bradley.

Those participating in the program were Darlene Swadley, Rebecca Jones, Vicki Jones, David Wade, Mary Lea Wade, Joni Frye, Mary Lou Schoonover and Sylvia Schoonover. The nursery class sang, "Jesus Loves Me" and the primary class sang, "Away in the Manger."

Special Christmas music was sung by Miss Jill Allen and Linda Alderton from Oldtown. A Christmas tree was trimmed and all joined in singing, "Silent Night." The closing prayer was by Rev. George Widmyer.

A picnic was held following the program.

Others attending were Mrs. Elaine Widmyer, Mrs. Louise Swadley, Mrs. Ruth Ella Barr, Miss Vonnie Barr, Miss Denise Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Wade, Lillian Wade, Jennifer Brunell, Mrs. Mary Fansler, Mrs. Morgan Riley, Sarah Riley, Mrs. Vera Wonders, Mrs. Janelle Barker, Scott Barker, Brenda Snyder, Mrs. Evelyn Muse, Mary Jane Muse, Twila Swadley, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bradley, Brian Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frye, Mrs. Katie Robertson, Mrs. Bessie Fisher, Thomas Riley, Michael Pitznogle, Miss Lucille Wratchford, Mrs. Delphia Phillips, Vonda Davis, Mrs. Evelyn Baker, Oliver Hornick and Mrs. Elma Duer.

North Cumberland Homemakers will hold a covered dish picnic at 6 tonight in Grove 1, Constitution Park.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers It's No Cinch To Be "Two-Faced"

Applying make-up is a definite art for "two-faced" women. These are the gals blessed (or cursed) with both dry and oily skin placed patchwork-fashion over their faces. If they treat their complexions as one—or the other—they're bound to end up with an uneven effect in constant need of repairs.

So, instead of relying on repairwork to coat their combination complexions, I suggest they thwart Nature with combination makeup.

The technique starts at the time of preparation. When the face is clean and ready for make-up, a rich moisture cream should be smoothed over the dry patches. On most two-faced women, these are found under the eyes, on the forehead near the temples, at the cheekbones and all over the throat. (Those in doubt can identify dry areas as the ones that feel mask-tight after washing and that looked lined and flaky under makeup after a couple of hours.)

Now, on the areas where a two-faced woman really shines, excessive oiliness can be stemmed with dabs of astringent... between the brows, over the nose and around the nostrils, over the lips and down the chin. These are the places, generally, that begin glistening early in the game, showing enlarged pores. Frequent repairwork is going to clog those pores and lend an orange cast to facial color.

When this dual undercoating is dry, the same technique should be employed in applying foundations... a cream or liquid base over all dry areas, a cake base in similar shade for the oily patches. The art is in the blending!

It's best done in good light, before a triple-mirror, if possible. The cream comes first, then the cake, done deftly with a barely-damp sponge (not a wet, soggy one that will thin down the base and water down the color-strength).

Once the two bases are blended where they meet, cool (not cold) water may be pressed all over

Woman Again Named To Board

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes announced Friday reappointment of Mrs. Elizabeth Roberts Cole of Chevy Chase to the State Board of Education.

Mrs. Cole has served on the board since her appointment by former Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin July 3, 1956. Her new term is for seven years dating from May 1962.

Mrs. Cole, an attorney and member of the Federal Bar Association, is chief of the public education section of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights and has become a recognized authority on the law of desegregation and educational problems involved in the desegregation process.

She formerly was general attorney for the commission, which was established by Congress in 1957 as an independent, bipartisan, fact-finding agency.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife and I read your column every day and we talk about it. Now I have a question I would like you to settle. Please print it so she can see your answer in black and white.

I am a member of a labor union. I like to wear my union button at all times because I'm proud of it. My wife says I should not wear a celluloid button with a local number on it when we go out socially—especially to church. She claims it looks out of place and embarrasses her.

I say a labor union button is a badge of honor and it is never out of place. After all, in some countries people can't join labor unions and I'm proud to have the privilege. Please decide who is right.—UNION MAN

DEAR ANN LANDERS: It's wonderful to be so proud of your union badge that you want to wear it everywhere, but I agree with your wife. There's a time and a place for everything. Freedom to worship is also a privilege denied to people in some countries. But would you wear a badge to your next union meeting reading "I am a Lutheran"?

Wearing a union badge to church or social gatherings adds up to the same thing. It would not be WRONG—just out of place.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I read with interest the letter from the man who rented the upstairs of his duplex to a family of four. Then a few months later five more people moved in as "guests."

I learned how to deal with such lowbrow tenants. You can be sure the man's hunch was right when he said he couldn't prove it but he suspected the "guests" were paying rent to their friends—probably splitting it.

Before I rent an apartment or a home I put a clause in the lease stating how many people are allowed to occupy the dwelling. (A birth in the family is an exception, of course.) If anyone else moves in for more than four weeks, the rent goes up accordingly.

In the case of this landlord who rented to four and now has nine people living up there, he'd be perfectly justified in doubling the rent and I hope he does. I can guarantee him the "guests" will move out in a hurry.—FLORA

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm ashamed to write this because you'll probably think I'm a terrible person. On paper it will sound awful, but if you met me in person I'm sure you'd find me quite nice.

I married my husband ten years ago. Three years later I divorced him because we always seemed to be fighting. One year later I married another man and my ex-husband married another woman. His marriage lasted two months and mine lasted three months. We agreed that we had both remarried out of spite. Within six months we were back together again as man and wife.

Eight months later we were fighting just like before. I put up with it for three years and then I divorced him. We couldn't stand to be apart and the kids kept crying for their Daddy, so I remarried him. Everything was fine until three months ago. Now we are fighting again and I want to unload him for good. But I'm afraid to take the step because of what has happened in the past. Please tell me what to do.

—AGATHA

DEAR AGATHA: Some people can't get along WITH each other or WITHOUT each other. You two are chronic battlers with a basic need for someone to fight with. Enlist the aid of a third party to referee the big ones instead of running to the divorce court. But stay married.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife and I read your column every day and we talk about it. Now I have a question I would like you to settle. Please print it so she can see your answer in black and white.

I am a member of a labor union. I like to wear my union button at all times because I'm proud of it. My wife says I should not wear a celluloid button with a local number on it when we go out socially—especially to church. She claims it looks out of place and embarrasses her.

I say a labor union button is a badge of honor and it is never out of place. After all, in some countries people can't join labor unions and I'm proud to have the privilege. Please decide who is right.—UNION MAN

DEAR MAN: It's wonderful to be so proud of your union badge that you want to wear it everywhere, but I agree with your wife. There's a time and a place for everything. Freedom to worship is also a privilege denied to people in some countries. But would you wear a badge to your next union meeting reading "I am a Lutheran"?

Wearing a union badge to church or social gatherings adds up to the same thing. It would not be WRONG—just out of place.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I read with interest the letter from the man who rented the upstairs of his duplex to a family of four. Then a few months later five more people moved in as "guests."

I learned how to deal with such lowbrow tenants. You can be sure the man's hunch was right when he said he couldn't prove it but he suspected the "guests" were paying rent to their friends—probably splitting it.

Before I rent an apartment or a home I put a clause in the lease stating how many people are allowed to occupy the dwelling. (A birth in the family is an exception, of course.) If anyone else moves in for more than four weeks, the rent goes up accordingly.

In the case of this landlord who rented to four and now has nine people living up there, he'd be perfectly justified in doubling the rent and I hope he does. I can guarantee him the "guests" will move out in a hurry.—FLORA

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm ashamed to write this because you'll probably think I'm a terrible person. On paper it will sound awful, but if you met me in person I'm sure you'd find me quite nice.

I married my husband ten years ago. Three years later I divorced him because we always seemed to be fighting. One year later I married another man and my ex-husband married another woman. His marriage lasted two months and mine lasted three months. We agreed that we had both remarried out of spite. Within six months we were back together again as man and wife.

Eight months later we were fighting just like before. I put up with it for three years and then I divorced him. We couldn't stand to be apart and the kids kept crying for their Daddy, so I remarried him. Everything was fine until three months ago. Now we are fighting again and I want to unload him for good. But I'm afraid to take the step because of what has happened in the past. Please tell me what to do.

—AGATHA

DEAR AGATHA: Some people can't get along WITH each other or WITHOUT each other. You two are chronic battlers with a basic need for someone to fight with. Enlist the aid of a third party to referee the big ones instead of running to the divorce court. But stay married.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Panama Canal Span

PANAMA (AP)—A $20-million bridge spanning the Panama Canal at its Pacific entrance is scheduled to be inaugurated in October. The 5,425-foot structure, financed by the United States, will provide permanent access between Panama City and the interior of the country, replacing the present ferry system.

National Farm Safety Week, July 22-28, co-sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the National Safety Council, has as its theme this year, "Family Safety — at Work and Play."

QUESTION:
Will the "smoke damage" clause in Extended Coverage Insurance foot the bill for cleaning off the soot and smoke marks that come from the fire-place.

ANSWER:
No. That type of damage is specifically excluded from the smoke damage coverage.

Secret of long life, low upkeep of GAS air conditioning

It's no secret that a simple Gas flame—as dependable as the one that cooks your food—means long life with low upkeep. And this same simple flame can also cool your home, office or shop. There are no major moving parts to wear and need servicing. After all, what is there about a Gas flame to wear out?

Building a new home? Then consider a central Gas air conditioning system that both cools and heats through the same ductwork. Buying a home or remodeling your present home? Then you can easily adapt a Gas add-on cooling unit to your present forced-air Gas heating system. Either way, you can enjoy the comfort you deserve. No more sickish summertime drag and exhaustion. No more sleepless nights. Think you can't afford Gas air conditioning? Think again! It costs as little as $8.60 a month. And because there is a special low rate for Gas air conditioning, you'll find it costs very little to keep your entire home refreshingly cool.

Want all the facts? Then call your Gas Company air conditioning representative. He'll be happy to serve you.

Live modern . . . for less . . . with GAS!

Secret of long life, low upkeep of GAS air conditioning

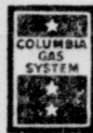

It's no secret that a simple Gas flame—as dependable as the one that cooks your food—means long life with low upkeep. And this same simple flame can also cool your home, office or shop. There are no major moving parts to wear and need servicing. After all, what is there about a Gas flame to wear out?

Building a new home? Then consider a central Gas air conditioning system that both cools and heats through the same ductwork. Buying a home or remodeling your present home? Then you can easily adapt a Gas add-on cooling unit to your present forced-air Gas heating system. Either way, you can enjoy the comfort you deserve. No more sickish summertime drag and exhaustion. No more sleepless nights. Think you can't afford Gas air conditioning? Think again! It costs as little as $8.60 a month. And because there is a special low rate for Gas air conditioning, you'll find it costs very little to keep your entire home refreshingly cool.

Want all the facts? Then call your Gas Company air conditioning representative. He'll be happy to serve you.

Live modern . . . for less . . . with GAS!

Burma Boiling In 'Unneutral' Strife

To Americans, patriotism and a sense of nationality seem natural. But only about three-fifths of the people of Burma — homeland of United Nations Secretary General U Thant—are Burmans. And the Burmans have been torn by deep dissension between the "Clean" and "Stable" factions, or parties, which became so bitter that Premier U Nu had to ask the armed forces to take over to restore stability.

The other two-fifths of the people include a half dozen tribes which occupy semi-autonomous states and are periodically in revolt. Also about 450 Chinese Nationalist guerrillas, about 600,000 Chinese, and a number of Indians and Pakistanis.

About 80 per cent of the people are Buddhists and Buddhism is the state religion. A local point of dissension and violence has been the schools and universities, which had to be closed down for some time in the interests of national security. After they were reopened in 1960, the division political forces that had been active among them, including the Communists, were soon back at their old tricks.

Now the armed forces have crushed student riots on Rangoon University campus. The students had been wrecking college and dormitory property, burning cars of faculty members, using the Student Union building for plotting against the government, defying and stoning troops when asked to disperse.

Burma is neutral in respect to nations outside her border and is not aligned with the free world. There seems to be little internal neutralism inside her borders, however, but what the Burmese are unneutral about is not quite clear.

Racial Inequality

I have before me a Complaint filed in the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. It is entitled: Alhaji Talib Ahmad Dawud and Dakota Staton V. Elijah Muhammad and Muhammad's Temple of Islam.

The foregoing plaintiffs assert that they are officers and members of the Muslim Brotherhood which is dedicated to the propagation of the Islamic Faith and the teaching of the Brotherhood of Man."

In the Complaint, the plaintiffs assert that Elijah Muhammad, "in the name of the Islamic Faith and the Muslim Religion teaches in these various Temples and Mosques 'Racial Inequality,' 'Black Supremacy' and the separation of the Negro people from the American community insofar as it is white; he demands renunciation of loyalty to the United States Government; that Negroes be resettled in States as a separate nation; that they avoid all association with white persons, and that they bear no arms in the service of the United States."

In a word, according to this Complaint, Elijah Muhammad advocates sedition and even treason. This, of course, is a matter for the courts to decide. What the Complaint indicates is that there is a difference of opinion among the Moslems in this country. Why Elijah spells it Muslim, I don't know. Also why he uses the name Muhammad for Mohammed, I also do not know.

What Dawud objects to is that Elijah teaches false doctrines. He says:

"... these doctrines, if passed off as the Muslim religion, are false, misleading, and a deliberate distortion of the Muslim Faith, directly contrary to the teachings thereof, and designed to mislead the general public into a mistaken belief about Islam, and to cast great discredit upon one of the principal religions of mankind."

The Plaintiffs aver:

"The adherents of the Islamic Faith number in the hundreds of millions, but there is no responsible group of these that advocates 'racial superiority,' 'black supremacy,' or similar doctrines; the principal teaching being the Unity of God and the Brotherhood of Man. The followers of Islam are of every race and ethnic origin."

The defendant is an American Negro, Elijah Poole, who claims to be the principal prophet of Islam which puts him on a par with Mohammed who founded the Islamic faith and is reputed to have prepared the Koran. His city, Mecca, is the holy city of his faith, to which Moslems make pilgrimages.

Mohammed was an Arab not a Negro. He lived in the Seventh Century and his religion prevails today among the Arabic nations and in North Africa. There are also important Islamic areas throughout Asia.

Dakota Staton, in her statement, denies that Elijah's ideas are based on the Koran which she spells Quran.

Elijah Poole, although a Negro, is pro-segregationist, on the grounds of black nationalism. In Dawud's statement, he says:

"Islam describes the nature of God the Creator as being unseen; that 'God cannot be seen with the physical eyes.' He is too subtle to be seen by the eye of man, but He is aware of everything."

"On the other hand, Elijah describes as God one W. D. Fard, whom he met on a street corner in Detroit in 1934, and who appointed him his 'Messenger' to the black people of North America. If Elijah's pronouncements are true they are on their face antagonistic to the Holy Quran, of which for all Muslims, there is only one in existence."

What undoubtedly is intended here is to say that only one God is in existence. Further, he says:

"Elijah declares all white men to be 'devils,' and claims that all black men who embrace him as the 'Messenger' will be saved at the time of the destruction of the United States, while the 'devils' will be destroyed."

Dawud finally challenges Elijah Poole to debate him. He says:

"I challenge Elijah Poole to a debate on Islam as based on the teachings of the Holy Quran and the life of the Holy Prophet, Muhammad, a debate to be moderated by a person of the same eminence in the theology of Islam as the Honorable Muhammad Zafrullah Khan, Pakistani Ambassador to the United Nations, and former vice-president of the International Court of Justice."

This is an interesting quarrel. Elijah Poole runs contrary to Negro leadership in this country. His opponents have generally been Christians; in this instance, Moslem Negroes oppose him directly.

Congress-White House Impasse On Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON

The present state of the argument about heavy, immediate tax cuts speaks volumes about President Kennedy's difficult political predicament.

Here we have a national economy that is worryingly lagging. Here we have a remedy for the lag which has strong support on the right as well as on the left, and also offers a most agreeable dividend to the voters in an election year.

Here we have an Administration daily more inclined to adopt this remedy, and a President daily more willing to listen to those around him who urge tax cuts, despite his own inbred fiscal conservatism. What then is the obstacle?

The obstacle is the Congress. If the President now recommends tax cuts, whether for one year or to endure permanently, his recommendation must first go to the House Ways and Means Committee; it must then be approved by the House; it must then work its way through the already overloaded Senate Finance Committee; after that it must be approved by the Senate; and it will only become law when the conference report is voted by both chambers.

Congress as a whole is willing enough to cut taxes. But the all-powerful chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, is far more eager to receive a tax cutting recommendation from the White House at this time.

As for the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, he has just called the U. S. Chamber of Commerce names usually reserved for Americans for Democratic Action, because the U. S. Chamber came out for tax cuts. In fact, Sen. Byrd, in person, is the principal obstacle to a Presidential decision to ask for tax cuts now.

Most probably such a decision will be made in the end; and after considerable fuss, the tax cuts will most probably be voted. But consider the implications of the mere fact that President Kennedy is now hesitating to recommend an economic cure which is pure jam with no pill at all in political terms, mainly because he is worried about the Congressional response to this recommendation!

This means, in reality, that the President and the Congress have reached a state of almost complete impasse, at least on domestic legislative matters. Defense and foreign policy measures and the trade bill, which affects our power to compete in the modern world, may still receive serious Congressional consideration. But the impasse, as this session has abundantly shown, covers almost everything else.

President Kennedy means to try to escape from the impasse by taking the stump in the off-year Congressional elections in a most intensive manner. He will thus risk his prestige on the outcome in a way that no President has done since Woodrow Wilson, in the ill-fated League of Nations election of 1918.

Kennedy is ready to take this risk because he believes he can intensify and clarify the national debate, and thus win votes for the candidates of his party, even though his own name will not be on the ballot. He may well be right. But if the economic lag continues, it will still be a

ROSE GARDEN CHANGED — The Kennedys have been responsible for a lot of changes around the White House, including a little-publicized change in the famed Rose Garden.

Now when President Kennedy looks out of the windows in his office he sees a vastly changed garden from what it was when he first occupied the presidential chair. The garden has been completely done over—from topsoil to grassroots.

The new garden was the creation of Mrs. Paul Mellon, wife of the multi-millionaire son of the late Andrew W. Mellon, who is a Virginia neighbor of the Kennedys at their Glen Ora country place.

At the request of the Kennedys, Mrs. Mellon first rendered her idea of what the new garden should look like in a color sketch which was reduced to blueprint form for the work that was done by the newly-appointed White House gardener, 28-year-old William F. Ruback.

Mrs. Mellon planned a traditional American garden, selecting the flowers, shrubs and trees not only because of the contemplated color scheme, but so something will always be blooming during the growing season.

The redesigned garden is 125 feet by 90 feet, and it no longer is primarily a rose garden. It also contains groupings of petunias, yellow Achillea and some red and yellow Gallardia daisies.

The rose garden is not easily visible by the public, but work is now going forward on the East Lawn Garden, a larger project whose beauty will be readily visible to the hundreds of thousands of tourists who annually visit the White House.

Watch Out For Five Vacation Booby Traps

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Five booby traps are encountered on most vacations: poison ivy, accidents, sunburn, digestive upsets, and injuries. You and the family will enjoy the vacation more if these hazards can be ducked.

Poison ivy is a toughie. Don't rely upon being immune because you touched the plant once and didn't develop the typical stinging, blister type eruption. Sensitivity to the plant may grow on you.

Take time to look for the three-leaved pest in the fields and along walls, fences, and trees. Point them out to the children because it is easier to avoid something with which you are familiar. Wash the skin thoroughly with strong soap and water if poison ivy has been contacted. There is no cure for this type of dermatitis but pain and itching can be relieved by applying a soothing lotion.

Swimming accidents can be the most serious of all vacation mishaps. Make certain everyone in your group knows how to swim, as well as the basic rules of artificial respiration. Small children should wear a life preserver when playing on the dock or in boats. Never swim alone and stay out of the water for at least an hour after eating.

Everyone knows about sunburn—too much too soon. Take it easy or try to acquire a slight tan before vacation, as a little sun conditioning a week or two ahead of time goes a long way. Some persons use sun lamps for this purpose, especially if they expect to fish or relax on the beach.

Digestive disorders are less common today because resort owners understand the importance of sanitation and pure water. Avoid dirty looking restaurants where spoiled food is likely to be served. Maintain orderly bowel habits by following the usual routine. The majority can expect some irregularity for a day or two, but let well enough alone and the cycle will return.

Abdominal cramps often follow days of eating too much, particularly fried foods, and overindulgence in alcoholic or cold soft drinks. Irregular meals add their toll. An anticid such as Creama-

Senate-House Conferees Clash On Aid To Religious Colleges

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The question of federal aid to Catholic colleges hasn't received the same publicity as the Supreme Court decision on the separation of church and state but it has frayed a lot of tempers in closed-door sessions of the House and Senate education committees.

The debate involves $1,500,000 of aid to colleges and universities, and the issue is whether grants or loans should be given to religious institutions — the great majority of them Catholic. The Senate voted for loans to religious colleges, believing that this got around the Constitutional ban on federal aid to religious institutions, since the money would be paid back.

The House, however, passed a bill giving outright grants to religious colleges, which meant that tax money paid by Protestants would go to Catholic institutions and not be paid back.

This the Senate conferees claim, is definitely unconstitutional, and for several weeks the two groups have been deadlocked in closed-door session.

The press and public are barred, but this column is able to report how the votes are lining up.

Secret Debate

Chairman of the Senate conferees is Wayne Morse of Oregon, who is up for re-election this year and needs Catholic votes in Oregon. However, he has been adamant that the taxpayers' money cannot be given to Catholic schools. He is for loans, but not grants. Morse is a Protestant.

The Chairman of the House group is another Oregonian, Congresswoman Edith Green of Portland, also a Democrat, a member of the Christian church. She disagrees with her fellow Oregonian, is strongly in favor of outright grants to Catholic schools.

Also important among the conferees is Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama, chairman of the over-all education committee. He is the author of the Hill-Burton Bill which has extended many millions of dollars to Catholic hospitals. But in the case of religious colleges, Hill is firmly opposed to outright grants. He is one of the leaders of the opposition.

Taking the same position are Sens. Ralph Yarborough of Texas and Jennings Randolph of West Virginia, both Protestants.

The above are all Democrats. The only Democratic Senator who leans toward federal grants for Catholic colleges is Joe Clark of Pennsylvania, who is up for re-election this year in the state of Pennsylvania which for the first time in history has a Catholic governor.

The above are Democrats. Their Republican conferees agree with them. They include Carroll Kearns of Pennsylvania, a Lutheran; Albert Quie of Minnesota, a Protestant who does not list his exact religion; and Charles Goodell of New York, an Episcopalian.

Javits And Goldwater Agree

There are three Republicans on the subcommittee and all three favor outright grants to Catholic colleges. The three Republicans are Jack Javits of New York, who is Jewish; Barry Goldwater of Arizona, whose father was Jewish; and Winston Prouty of Vermont, who is a Congregationalist.

The Republicans made quite a political issue of this by issuing a public statement in disagreement with the bill passed by the Senate, on the ground that the federal government had long issued scientific and medical grants to grants to Catholic and other private colleges.

The Republican statement, however, was issued just four days before the Supreme Court prayer decision which reaffirmed the separation of church and state. This put Senator Javits in quite an embarrassing position, for it was Jewish parents who initiated the Long Island appeal to the Supreme Court against having their children participate in a school prayer. Javits apparently forgot his announcement four days earlier favoring grants to religious schools, for he promptly issued a statement supporting the Supreme Court.

On the House side, every conferee is lined up solidly for outright grants to Catholic schools, and has been inspired to remain that way by Speaker John McCormack, called by President Kennedy the "Archbishop of Boston." Of late, John has been sensitive about getting publicity tabbed for boosting the position of the Catholic hierarchy, and perhaps should now be called the "underground Archbishop of Boston." Nevertheless his influence has been felt.

The House conferees include John Brademas, a Methodist of Greek descent, who represents South Bend, Ind., home of Notre Dame University. He favors Catholic grants.

Chairman of the over-all committee is Adam Clayton Powell, pastor of the biggest Baptist Church in the USA, the Abyssinian Baptist Church of Harlem, N. Y. He is strongly for outright grants to Catholic colleges.

Another House conferee is Robert Giampo of New Haven, Conn. He disagrees with his fellow Catholic, Sen. Pat McNamara, and believes there should be grants to Catholic colleges.

All the above are Democrats. The House conferees agree with them. They include Carroll Kearns of Pennsylvania, a Lutheran; Albert Quie of Minnesota, a Protestant who does not list his exact religion; and Charles Goodell of New York, an Episcopalian.

The Senate and House conferees were deadlocked even before the Supreme Court's recent decision on state-dictated prayer.

But immediately after the Supreme Court's prayer decision, June 25, Rep. Powell asked that, if the House-Senate Committee could not finish its work that week, there be an adjournment.

"I have been very tired and want to get away for a rest," he told Mrs. Green of Oregon. "I had to interrupt my sermon in the pulpit last Sunday."

Powell has a beach home in San Juan, Puerto Rico, where Mrs. Powell lives while drawing $12,000 from the government as her husband's secretary. He goes there frequently from Washington.

So the deadlock over aid to colleges has been adjourned as a favor to the Congressman from Harlem until tomorrow when the debate resumes again.

Letters To The Editor

My dear Sir:

The celebration of the Sesqui-centennial in Frostburg last week was slightly out of date. Actually the town itself is much older than that. Of course, if the celebration was in honor of the name alone, 150 years is all right. However, a town or village existed some many years prior to the use of the present name.

According to my family history, the town of Mount Pleasant came into existence about 1803. It was made up of "settlers' lots" owned by Robert and Rebecca Clarke original owners of the "Vale Farm", and deeded to their two children, Robert and Mary at the death of Robert, Sr. in 1794. The town went by this name until Monday, May 20, 1820, when the Government Post Office was established, and the name Frostburg, for Meshack Frost, was first used, and "finally confirmed by the Act of the Maryland Legislature in 1834, Chapter 137. Under the same Act, Andrew Bruce and William Ridgeley therein appointed Commissioners for the purpose, the town was laid off, and on Friday, May 26 1837 a plat of 43 building lots was filed and recorded."

Among the first families to reside in the town of Mount Pleasant was that of Mr. and Mrs. George McCulloh. Their home was built on the present site of the Elks Home. Mrs. McCulloh, formerly Mary Clarke, was the daughter of Robert and Rebecca Clarke, former owners of the "Vale Farm." The land and house was conveyed to her on her marriage to George McCulloh, July 10, 1806. Four of their nine children were born there prior to 1812.

With the exception of the land in the southernmost part of the small town, two other "settler lots" were sold in 1817 to John Compton, Jr. He in turn conveyed them to Josiah Frost of Mount Savage, who died in 1819, and were then willed to his three sons, Meshack, Isiah and Josiah, Jr. Meshack Frost sold the first building lot and was responsible for laying out other areas in the town which was thereafter called Frostburg.

With the opening of the National Pike to the westward, by an Act of Congress 1804-1805, many newcomers came into the area to establish homes along the highway.

I submit, therefore, if the date of the first residents to an area is the birthday of the town, how could there be a sesquicentennial? Also, if the date of the laying out of the town began in 1819, how could it be 150 years old in 1962.

The above is compiled from an article written by my mother for the Frostburg Mining Journal, Saturday February 13, 1915, 44th year, No. 21, Whole Number 2308. My mother was May McCulloh Purnell, wife of Judge Clayton Purnell of Frostburg, and granddaughter of Mary Clarke McCulloh.

P.S. I hope by the time another celebration date in that area comes around somebody will have gotten the dates straight. Either celebrate the date of the birthday of the town itself, or the actual anniversary of the town Frostburg itself.

Burma Boiling In 'Unneutral' Strife

To Americans, patriotism and a sense of nationality seem natural. But only about three-fifths of the people of Burma — homeland of United Nations Secretary General U Thant—are Burmans. And the Burmans have been torn by deep dissension between the "Clean" and "Stable" factions, or parties, which became so bitter that Premier U Nu had to ask the armed forces to take over to restore stability.

The other two-fifths of the people include a half dozen tribes which occupy semi-autonomous states and are periodically in revolt. About 450 Chinese Nationalist guerrillas, about 600,000 Chinese, and a number of Indians and Pakistanis.

About 80 per cent of the people are Buddhists and Buddhism is the state religion. A local point of dissension and violence has been the schools and universities, which had to be closed down for some time in the interests of national security. After they were reopened in 1960, the division political forces that had been active among them, including the Communists, were soon back at their old tricks.

Now the armed forces have crushed student riots on Rangoon University campus. The students had been wrecking college and dormitory property, burning cars of faculty members, using the Student Union building for plotting against the government, defying and stoning troops when asked to disperse.

Burma is neutral in respect to nations outside her border and is not aligned with the free world. There seems to be little internal neutralism inside her borders, however, but what the Burmese are unneutral about is not quite clear.

Racial Inequality

I have before me a Complaint filed in the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. It is entitled: Alhajji Talib Ahmad Dawud and Dakota Staton V. Elijah Muhammad and Muhammad's Temple of Islam.

The foregoing plaintiffs assert that they are officers and members of the Muslim Brotherhood which is dedicated to the propagation of the Islamic Faith and the teaching of the Brotherhood of Man.

In the Complaint, the plaintiffs assert that Elijah Muhammad, "in the name of the Islamic Faith and the Muslim Religion teaches in these various Temples and Mosques 'Racial Inequality,' 'Black Supremacy' and the separation of the Negro people from the American community insofar as it is white; he demands renunciation of loyalty to the United States Government; that Negroes be resettled in States as a separate nation; that they avoid all association with white persons, and that they bear no arms in the service of the United States."

In a word, according to this Complaint, Elijah Muhammad advocates sedition and even treason. This, of course, is a matter for the courts to decide. What the Complaint indicates is that there is a difference of opinion among the Moslems in this country. Why Elijah spells it Muslim, I don't know. Also why he uses the name Muhammad for Mohammed, I also do not know.

What Dawud objects to is that Elijah teaches false doctrines. He says:

... these doctrines, if passed off as the Muslim religion, are false, misleading, and a deliberate distortion of the Muslim Faith, directly contrary to the teachings thereof, and designed to mislead the general public into a mistaken belief about Islam, and to cast great discredit upon one of the principal religions of mankind."

The Plaintiffs aver: "The adherents of the Islamic Faith number in the hundreds of millions, but there is no responsible group of these that advocates 'racial superiority,' 'black supremacy' or similar doctrines; the principal teaching being the Unity of God and the Brotherhood of Man. The followers of Islam are of every race and ethnic origin."

The defendant is an American Negro, Elijah Poole, who claims to be the principal prophet of Islam which puts him on a par with Mohammed who founded the Islamic faith and is reputed to have prepared the Koran. His city, Mecca, is the holy city of his faith, to which Moslems make pilgrimages.

Mohammed was an Arab not a Negro. He lived in the Seventh Century and his religion prevails today among the Arabic nations and in North Africa. There are also important Islamic areas throughout Asia.

Dakota Staton, in her statement, denies that Elijah's ideas are based on the Koran which she spells Quran.

Elijah Poole, although a Negro, is pro-segregationist, on the grounds of black nationalism. In Dawud's statement, he says:

"Islam describes the nature of God the Creator as being unseen: that 'God cannot be seen with the physical eyes.' He is too subtle to be seen by the eye of man, but He is aware of everything."

"On the other hand, Elijah describes as God one W. D. Fard, whom he met on a street corner in Detroit in 1934, and who appointed him his 'Messenger' to the black people of North America. If Elijah's pronouncements are true they are on their face antagonistic to the Holy Quran, of which for all Muslims, there is only one in existence."

What undoubtedly is intended here is to say that only one God is in existence. Further, he says: "Elijah declares all white men to be 'devils' and claims that all black men who embrace him as the 'Messenger' will be saved at the time of the destruction of the United States, while the 'devils' will be destroyed."

Dawud finally challenges Elijah Poole to debate him. He says:

"I challenge Elijah Poole to a debate on Islam as based on the teachings of the Holy Quran and the life of the Holy Prophet, Muhammad, a debate to be moderated by a person of the same eminence in the theology of Islam as the Honorable Muhammad Zafullah Khan, Pakistani Ambassador to the United Nations, and former vice-president of the International Court of Justice."

This is an interesting quarrel. Elijah Poole runs contrary to Negro leadership in this country. His opponents have generally been Christians; in this instance, Moslem Negroes oppose him.

Congress-White House Impasse On Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON — The present state of the argument about heavy, immediate tax cuts speaks volumes about President Kennedy's difficult political predicament.

Here we have a national economy that is worryingly lagging. Here we have a remedy for the lag which has strong support on the right as well as on the left, and also offers a most agreeable dividend to the voters in an election year.

Here we have an Administration daily more inclined to adopt this remedy, and a President daily more willing to listen to those around him who urge tax cuts, despite his own inbred fiscal conservatism. What then is the obstacle?

The obstacle is the Congress. If the President now recommends tax cuts, whether for one year or to endure permanently, his recommendation must first go to the House Ways and Means Committee; it must then be approved by the House; it must then work its way through the already overloaded Senate Finance Committee; after that it must be approved by the Senate; and it will only become law when the conference report is voted by both chambers.

Congress as a whole is willing enough to cut taxes. But the all-powerful chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, is far more eager to receive a tax cutting recommendation from the White House at this time.

As for the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, he has just called the U. S. Chamber of Commerce names usually reserved for Americans for Democratic Action, because the U. S. Chamber came out for tax cuts. In fact, Sen. Byrd, in person, is the principal obstacle to a Presidential decision to ask for tax cuts now.

Most probably such a decision will be made in the end; and after considerable fuss, the tax cuts will most probably be voted. But consider the implications of the mere fact that President Kennedy is now hesitating to recommend an economic cure which is pure jam with no pill at all in political terms, mainly because he is worried about the Congressional response to this recommendation!

This means, in reality, that the President and the Congress have reached a state of almost complete impasse, at least on domestic legislative matters. Defense and foreign policy measures and the trade bill, which affects our power to compete in the modern world, may still receive serious Congressional consideration. But the impasse, as this session has abundantly shown, covers almost everything else.

President Kennedy means to try to escape from the impasse by taking the stump in the off-year Congressional elections in a most intensive manner. He will thus risk his prestige on the outcome in a way that no President has done since Woodrow Wilson, in the ill-fated League of Nations election of 1918.

Kennedy is ready to take this risk because he believes he can intensify and clarify the national debate, and thus win votes for the candidates of his party, even though his own name will not be on the ballot. He may well be right. But if the economic lag continues, it will still be a

ROSE GARDEN CHANGED — The Kennedys have been responsible for a lot of changes around the White House, including a little-publicized change in the famed Rose Garden.

Now when President Kennedy looks out of the windows in his office he sees a vastly changed garden from what it was when he first occupied the presidential chair. The garden has been completely done over—from topsoil to grassroots.

The new garden was the creation of Mrs. Paul Mellon, wife of the multi-millionaire son of the late Andrew W. Mellon, who is a Virginia neighbor of the Kennedys at their Glen Ora country place.

At the request of the Kennedys, Mrs. Mellon first rendered her idea of what the new garden should look like in a color sketch which was reduced to blueprint form for the work that was done by the newly-appointed White House gardener, 28-year-old William F. Ruback.

Mrs. Mellon planned a traditional American garden, selecting the flowers, shrubs and trees not only because of the contemplated color scheme, but so something will always be blooming during the growing season.

The redesigned garden is 125 feet by 90 feet, and it no longer is primarily a rose garden. It also contains groupings of petunias, yellow Achillea and some red and yellow Galliardia daisies.

The rose garden is not easily visible by the public, but work is now going forward on the East Lawn Garden, a larger project whose beauty will be readily visible to the hundreds of thousands of tourists who annually visit the White House.

Watch Out For Five Vacation Booby Traps

Five booby traps are encountered on most vacations: poison ivy, accidents, sunburn, digestive upsets, and injuries. You and the family will enjoy the vacation more if these hazards can be ducked.

Poison ivy is a toughie. Don't rely upon being immune because you touched the plant once and didn't develop the typical stinging, blister type eruption. Sensitivity to the plant may grow on you.

Take time to look for the three-leaved pest in the fields and along walls, fences, and trees. Point them out to the children because it is easier to avoid something with which you are familiar. Wash the skin thoroughly with strong soap and water if poison ivy has been contacted. There is no cure for this type of dermatitis but pain and itching can be relieved by applying a soothing lotion.

Swimming accidents can be the most serious of all vacation mishaps. Make certain everyone in your group knows how to swim, as well as the basic rules of artificial respiration. Small children should wear a life preserver when playing on the dock or in boats. Never swim alone and stay out of the water for at least an hour after eating.

Everyone knows about sunburn—too much too soon. Take it easy or try to acquire a slight tan before vacation, as a little sun conditioning a week or two ahead of time goes a long way. Some persons use sun lamps for this purpose, especially if they expect to fish or relax on the beach.

Digestive disorders are less common today because resort owners understand the importance of sanitation and pure water. Avoid dirty looking restaurants where spoiled food is likely to be served. Maintain orderly bowel habits by following the usual routine. The majority can expect some irregularity for a day or two, but let well enough alone and the cycle will return.

Abdominal cramps often follow days of eating too much, particularly fried foods, and overindulgence in alcoholic or cold soft drinks. Irregular meals add their toll. An antacid such as Crema-

Senate-House Education Conferees Clash On Aid To Religious Colleges

WASHINGTON — The question of federal aid to Catholic colleges hasn't received the same publicity as the Supreme Court decision on the separation of church and state but it has frayed a lot of tempers in closed-door sessions of the House and Senate education committees.

The debate involves $1,500,000 of aid to colleges and universities, and the issue is whether grants or loans should be given to religious institutions — the great majority of them Catholic. The Senate voted for loans to religious colleges, believing that this got around the Constitutional ban on federal aid to religious institutions, since the money would be paid back.

The House, however, passed a bill giving outright grants to religious colleges, which meant that tax money paid by Protestants would go to Catholic institutions and not be paid back.

This the Senate conferees claim, is definitely unconstitutional, and for several weeks the two groups have been deadlocked in closed-door session.

The press and public are barred, but this column is able to report how the votes are lining up.

Secret Debate

Chairman of the Senate conferees is Wayne Morse of Oregon, who is up for re-election this year and needs Catholic votes in Oregon. However, he has been adamant that the taxpayers' money cannot be given to Catholic schools. He is for loans, but not grants. Morse is a Protestant.

By Drew Pearson

The Chairman of the House group is another Oregonian, Congresswoman Edith Green of Portland, also a Democrat, a member of the Christian church. She disagrees with her fellow Oregonian, is strongly in favor of outright grants to Catholic schools.

Also important among the conferees is Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama, chairman of the over-all education committee. He is the author of the Hill-Burton Bill which has extended many millions of dollars to Catholic hospitals. But in the case of religious colleges, Hill is firmly opposed to outright grants. He is one of the leaders of the opposition.

Also on the Senate committee is Pat McNamara of Detroit, a Catholic. Pat argues firmly that Catholic colleges, and of course other religious colleges, should not receive federal grants.

Taking the same position are Sens. Ralph Yarborough of Texas and Jennings Randolph of West Virginia, both Protestants.

The above are all Democrats. The only Democratic Senator who leans toward federal grants for Catholic colleges is Joe Clark of Pennsylvania, who is up for re-election this year in the state of Pennsylvania which for the first time in history has a Catholic governor.

Javits And Goldwater Agree

There are three Republicans on the subcommittee and all three favor outright grants to Catholic colleges. The three Republicans are Jack Javits of New York, who is Jewish; Barry Goldwater of Arizona, whose father was Jewish; and Winston Prouty of Vermont, who is a Congregationalist. The Republicans made quite a political issue of this by issuing a public statement in disagreement with the bill passed by the Senate, on the ground that the federal government had long issued scientific and medical grants to grants to Catholic and other private colleges.

The Republican statement, however, was issued just four days before the Supreme Court prayer decision which reaffirmed the separation of church and state. This put Senator Javits in quite an embarrassing position, for it was Jewish parents who initiated the Long Island appeal to the Supreme Court against having their children participate in a school prayer. Javits apparently forgot his announcement four days earlier favoring grants to religious schools, for he promptly issued a statement supporting the Supreme Court.

On the House side, every conferee is lined up solidly for outright grants to Catholic schools, and has been inspired to remain that way by Speaker John McCormack, called by President Kennedy the "Archbishop of Boston." Of late, John has been sensitive about getting publicity tabbed for boosting the position of the Catholic hierarchy, and perhaps should now be called the "underground Archbishop of Boston." Nevertheless his influence has been felt.

The House conferees include John Brademas, a Methodist of Greek descent, who represents South Bend, Ind., home of Notre Dame University. He favors Catholic grants.

Chairman of the over-all committee is Adam Clayton Powell, pastor of the biggest Baptist Church in the USA, the Abyssinian Baptist Church of Harlem, N. Y. He is strongly for outright grants to Catholic colleges.

Another House conferee is Robert Giampo of New Haven, Conn. He disagrees with his fellow Catholic, Sen. Pat McNamara, and believes there should be grants to Catholic colleges.

All the above are Democrats. Their Republican conferees agree with them. They include Carroll Kearns of Pennsylvania, a Lutheran; Albert Quie of Minnesota, a Protestant who does not list his exact religion; and Charles Goodell of New York, an Episcopalian.

The Senate and House conferees were deadlocked even before the Supreme Court's recent decision on state-dictated prayer.

But immediately after the Supreme Court's prayer decision, June 25, Rep. Powell asked that, if the House-Senate Committee could not finish its work that week, there be an adjournment.

"I have been very tired and want to get away for a rest," he told Mrs. Green of Oregon. "I had to interrupt my sermon in the pulpit last Sunday."

Powell has a beach home in San Juan, Puerto Rico, where Mrs. Powell lives while drawing $12,000 from the government as her husband's secretary. He goes there frequently from Washington.

So the deadlock over aid to colleges has been adjourned as a favor to the Congressman from Harlem until tomorrow when the debate resumes again.

Letters To The Editor

My dear Sir:

The celebration of the Sesquicentennial in Frostburg last week was slightly out of date. Actually the town itself is much older than that. Of course, if the celebration was in honor of the name alone, 150 years is all right. However, a town or village existed some many years prior to the use of the present name.

According to my family history, the town of Mount Pleasant came into existence about 1803. It was made up of "settlers' lots" owned by Robert and Rebecca Clarke original owners of the "Vale Farm", and deeded to their two children, Robert and Mary at the death of Robert, Sr. in 1794.

The town went by this name until Monday, May 20, 1820, when the Government Post Office was established, and the name Frostburg, for Meshack Frost, was first used, and "finally confirmed by the Act of the Maryland Legislature in 1834, Chapter 137. Under the same Act, Andrew Bruce and William Ridgely therein appointed Commissioners for the purpose, the town was laid off, and on Friday, May 26 1837 a plat of 43 building lots was filed and recorded."

Among the first families to reside in the town of Mount Pleasant was that of Mr. and Mrs. George McCulloh. Their home was built on the present site of the Elks Home. Mrs. McCulloh, formerly Mary Clarke, was the daughter of Robert and Rebecca Clarke, former owners of the "Vale Farm." The land and house was conveyed to her on her marriage to George McCulloh, July 10, 1806. Four of their nine children were born there prior to 1812.

REPLY
To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Deiler will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

With the exception of the land in the southernmost part of the small town, two other "settler lots" were sold in 1817 to John Compton, Jr. He in turn conveyed them to Josiah Frost of Mount Savage, who died in 1819, and were then willed to his three sons, Meshack, Isiah and Josiah, Jr. Meshack Frost sold the first building lot and was responsible for laying out other areas in the town which was thereafter called Frostburg.

With the opening of the National Pike to the westward, by an Act of Congress 1804-1805, many newcomers came into the area to establish homes along the highway.

I submit, therefore, if the date of the first residents to an area is the birthday of the town, how could there be a sesquicentennial? Also, if the date of the laying out of the town began in 1819, how could it be 150 years old in 1962?

The above is compiled from an article written by my mother for the Frostburg Mining Journal, Saturday February 13, 1915, 44th year, No. 21, Whole Number 2308. My mother was May McCulloh Purnell, wife of Judge Clayton Purnell of Frostburg, and granddaughter of Mary Clarke McCulloh.

P.S. I hope by the time another celebration date in that area comes around somebody will have gotten the dates straight. Either celebrate the date of the birthday of the town itself, or the actual anniversary of the town Frostburg itself.

A Blond Bombshell, whose name you would recognize, was signed to play the highly sexed heroine in the screen version of an explosive best seller. In his journal, Henry David Thoreau, author of "Walden," lamented that one of his own favorite books, "A Week on the Concord and Merrimack Rivers" (now generally accepted as an American classic) was published in 1849, when the entire country wanted to read about nothing but the gold rush in California. Who wanted a book about familiar old New England at a time like that? "The edition was limited to a thousand copies," wrote Thoreau sadly, "and eventually I had to buy most of these myself—I have now a library of nearly nine hundred volumes, over seven hundred of which I wrote myself."

Two Men Killed As Explosion Tips Mine Seal

Five Others Hurt In W. Va. Accident

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP) — Two workers standing on a concrete mine seal were killed Monday when an explosion upended the 75-ton slab and sent them plunging 275 feet down an abandoned mine shaft.

Five other men were injured one seriously.

The two victims were Gay Ice, 44, of White Hall, near Fairmont, and Robert Jones, about 32, of Farmington.

Ice and Jones were members of a 12-man crew employed by Interstate Engineers and Constructors, Inc. in dismantling a coal cleaning plant at the Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates mine at nearby Grant Town.

Harold Sargeant, president of Interstate, said Ice and Jones were standing on the concrete seal covering the abandoned shaft when the blast occurred.

They slid down the slab into the hole, with tons of debris falling on top of them. Rescue crews found their bodies at the bottom of the shaft several hours later. Sargeant said he didn't know what caused the explosion. There was possibility that sparks from a cutting torch may have ignited gas seeping from the mine seal, police said.

William Zirkle, 31, of Shinnston, suffered an arm injury. Arley Spry of Lumberport, had a chest injury and a fractured right leg. William Ice, 20, a son of one of the dead men, had hip and knee injuries.

Spry was the most seriously hurt. James Hinerman, 36, of Monongah, an Interstate employee, and Junior Green, 31, of Grant Town, an onlooker watching the workmen, were treated for minor injuries and discharged.

Disaster Area Status Is Asked For Area Counties

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. Lawrence called on the U. S. Department of Agriculture Monday to declare 17 more of Pennsylvania's drought-stricken counties as emergency disaster areas.

The action came just three days after Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman approved special drought aid for farmers in 22 of the state's 67 counties.

The federal action gave farmers in the 22 counties authority to cut hay and graze cattle on pastures now held in reserve under the soil bank program. Farmers in those areas also qualified for special loans.

Lawrence asked for extension of the emergency aid to these counties:

Arlington Girl Eligible To Be Miss West Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Diana Joyce Hunter may be from Arlington, Va., but from here on out Miss America Pageant circles will refer to her as Miss West Virginia from Morgantown, W. Va.

That statement was made by pageant executive director Miss Lenora Slaughter who emphasized that Miss Hunter "is 100 per cent eligible for the title of Miss West Virginia."

"Although a resident of another state, she chose West Virginia University to receive her education and thus indicated her allegiance to the state of West Virginia," Miss Slaughter said.

Ken Martin and Chuck Miller, co-chairmen of the Miss West Virginia Scholarship Pageant, said "much reference has been made" to the fact that Miss Hunter's family lives in Arlington, Va. The WVU co-ed won the title Saturday night.

Martin and Miller noted that the requirement that all contestants must have lived in the state for six months is waived in the case of out-of-state college or university co-eds who are "in the state where the contest is held and at the time the contest is held."

WSCS Officers Are Installed

LONACONING—Rev. George I. Loar installed officers of the Woman's Society of Christian Service at First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Martha Grindle is president; Mrs. Mildred Cross, vice president; Mrs. Sara Schramm, treasurer; Mrs. Edith Crowe, recording secretary.

Mrs. Hilda Phillips, secretary of Spiritual Life; Mrs. Mary Donald, promotional secretary; Miss Eleanor Evans, missionary education; Mrs. Ann Poote, student work; Mrs. Isabell Nightengale, youth; Mrs. Pauline Renne, literature and publications. Supply work, Mrs. Elizabeth Ravenscroft; publicity, Mrs. Jessie Foote; church activities, Mrs. Helen Broadwater.

First Aid Course Planned For Scouts

KEYSER — Registration is underway for Keyser Boy Scouts to receive Red Cross first aid instructions according to Lester Oates, local RC representative.

The first aid training sessions are open to any Boy Scout for the purpose of obtaining the merit badge for life, rank advancement, or either second class and first class Scouting rank requirements.

The eight two-hour classes will be conducted by Oates and Walter Bartlett. Arrangements are being made to have the classes at Keyser fire hall with the exact time and actual dates to be announced soon.

Youth Is Fined In Speeding Case

FROSTBURG — A 19-year-old Frostburg youth was fined $26.45 and given a 30-day suspended jail sentence here Saturday after being convicted of a motor vehicle violation that included a ride through a cemetery.

The youth was charged by Tfc. Joseph Stakem of the Maryland State Police after residents of the Grahamsville area notified police that he had driven through the community "at an excessive rate of speed."

Tfc. Stakem said one of the citizens obtained the license number of the driver and within an hour he had admitted the violation.

Eight witnesses appeared against the youth yesterday before Magistrate Edward Flanagan in Frostburg and testified he was traveling at such a high rate of speed he was unable to negotiate a curve and had to run through a cemetery before gaining control.

The youth testified his accelerator became jammed.

Woodchopping Contest Set At Forest Festival

Mountaineer Day Slated October 5

ELKINS—As part of its expanded program of events this year, the Mountain State Forest Festival will hold the National Open Hardwood Sawing and Chopping Contests on October 5. Director-General Richard E. Shepherd announced.

The entire day of October 5 has been set aside to give full recognition to the skills and equipment used in West Virginia's hardwood forests and the National Open will highlight the days activities.

The National Open will consist of woodchopping, sawing, log rolling and tree felling events and is open only to national, state, or festival champions.

The Davis and Elkins College campus will be the locale for these contests and several areas will be set aside in front of the beautiful amphitheater so spectators will have continuous entertainment.

Shepherd announced that many other innovations are planned for October 5 which will be known as Mountaineer Day because the skills, crafts and way of life of the West Virginia Mountaineer will be highlighted on that day.

Two Men Killed As Explosion Tips Mine Seal

Five Others Hurt In W. Va. Accident

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP) — Two workers standing on a concrete mine seal were killed Monday when an explosion upended the 75-ton slab and sent them plunging 275 feet down an abandoned mine shaft.

Five other men were injured, one seriously.

The two victims were Gay Ice, 44, of White Hall, near Fairmont, and Robert Jones, about 32, of Farmington.

Ice and Jones were members of a 12-man crew employed by Interstate Engineers and Constructors, Inc. in dismantling a coal cleaning plant at the Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates mine at nearby Grant Town.

Harold Sargeant, president of Interstate, said Ice and Jones were standing on the concrete seal covering the abandoned shaft when the blast occurred.

They slid down the slab into the hole, with tons of debris falling on top of them. Rescue crews found their bodies at the bottom of the shaft several hours later.

Sargeant said he didn't know what caused the explosion. There was possibility that sparks from a cutting torch may have ignited gas seeping from the mine seal, police said.

William Zirkle, 31, of Shinnston, suffered an arm injury. Arley Spry of Lumberport, had a chest injury and a fractured right leg. William Lee, 20, a son of one of the dead men, had hip and knee injuries.

Spry was the most seriously hurt.

James Hinerman, 36, of Monongah, an Interstate employee, and Junior Green, 31, of Grant Town, an onlooker watching the workmen, were treated for minor injuries and discharged.

Disaster Area Status Is Asked For Area Counties

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Lawrence called on the U. S. Department of Agriculture Monday to declare 17 more of Pennsylvania's drought-stricken counties as emergency disaster areas.

The action came just three days after Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman approved special drought aid for farmers in 22 of the state's 67 counties.

The federal action gave farmers in the 22 counties authority to cut hay and graze cattle on pastures now held in reserve under the soil bank program. Farmers in those areas also qualified for special loans.

Lawrence asked for extension of the emergency aid to these counties:

Arlington Girl Eligible To Be Miss West Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Diana Joyce Hunter may be from Arlington, Va., but from here on out Miss America Pageant circles will refer to her as Miss West Virginia from Morgantown, W. Va.

That statement was made by pageant executive director Miss Lenora Slaughter who emphasized that Miss Hunter "is 100 per cent eligible for the title of Miss West Virginia."

"Although a resident of another state, she chose West Virginia University to receive her education and thus indicated her allegiance to the state of West Virginia," Miss Slaughter said.

Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Miller, co-chairmen of the Miss West Virginia Scholarship Pageant, said "much reference has been made" to the fact that Miss Hunter's family lives in Arlington, Va. The WVU co-ed won the title Saturday night.

Martin and Miller noted that the requirement that all contestants must have lived in the state for six months is waived in the case of out-of-state college or university co-eds who are "in the state where the contest is held and at the time the contest is held."

WSCS Officers Are Installed

LONACONING — Rev. George I. Loar installed officers of the Woman's Society of Christian Service at First Methodist Church.

Bucs Whip Cards, 5-2, On Logan's Grand Slam

Ray Sadecki Is Victim In Sixth Frame

McBean Cops Fourth Straight, Becomes Ten-Game Winner

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Johnny Logan smashed a grand slam homer Monday night for his first extra-base hit of the season to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 5-2 softball victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The blow came off loser Ray Sadecki with two away in the sixth inning. It was the third extra-base hit of the season for Logan, who had a home run in his first game, a 5-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The stage was set when Dick Groat walked, Roberto Clemente singled, and Bob Skinner drew a base on balls. Logan's shot sailed into the lower right field stands.

Al McBean, pitching his fourth consecutive victory in as many route-going performances, became the first 10-game winner on the Pirates' hurling staff. Although he yielded nine hits, McBean struck out nine batters.

Logan and Don Leppert singled back-to-back and Bill Mazeroski lofted a sacrifice fly to give the Pirates their first run in the fifth inning.

The Cardinals scored when Stan Musial opened the second inning with a double, his first of three hits, and Charlie James singled. They stretched the lead to 2-0 in the fourth inning. Ken Boyer and Musial singled successively and then "Stan the Man" crossed the plate when James grounded into a double play.

McBean, who had a 2-0 record in his first three starts, struck out nine batters in the fifth inning. He struck out Don Leppert in the sixth inning. He struck out Stan Musial in the seventh inning. He struck out Stan Musial in the eighth inning. He struck out Stan Musial in the ninth inning.

Ford Notches 8th Triumph Of Campaign

Athletics Avert Shutout In Ninth, Pfister Loses 7th

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Whitey Ford posted his eighth victory and the New York Yankees tightened their grip on first place in the American League by defeating the Kansas City Athletics 3-1 Monday.

An error by Bill Consolo paved the way for New York's first two runs, which were unearned. With one out in the second inning Elston Howard on second and Hector Lopez on first, second baseman Jerry Lumpe fielded a bouncer off the bat of Cletis Boyer, but Consolo bobbled the throw to second.

Howard scored and Lopez took third, subsequently scoring on Ford's sacrifice fly.

In posting victory No. 8 against five losses, Ford had to have ninth inning help from Jim Bouton.

Danny Pfister (1-7) was the losing pitcher. He pitched eight innings, allowing the Yankees all seven of their hits.

Gretel To Receive Land, Sea Welcome

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—Gretel, Australia's sleek challenger in the Americas cup races, will be given a gala land and sea welcome on arrival here, probably Thursday.

Fireboats pumping pouts of water, pleasure yachts, a Navy band and a welcoming committee will be on hand when the Gretel, accompanied by Vim and two Australian tenders, arrives.

Exact date and time of arrival has not been finally set, officials said Monday.

Sir Frank Parker and his crew will be escorted from port-of-call in a caravan of open cars led by a band playing "Waltzing Matilda."

The Sports Shoppe took a one-game lead in the Rec Softball League by crushing Potomac Edison yesterday at Naval Reserve Field by the score of 24-3.

Tom McLuckie, making his debut on the rubber for the Sports Shoppe, scattered seven hits and struck out nine. It was the 7th straight win for the Sports Shoppe.

The league leaders collected 24 hits, sparked by Ernie Nimmons' home and two singles for a perfect day and Bob Russell's four-base knock. Rookie Steve Green rapped a double and two singles and Van Parsons rapped a pair of two-base blows.

Manager John Crone had two hits for P.E., which suffered its fifteenth loss in 16 outings.

The Sports Shoppe (12-2) and the Old Germans (10-2), leader and runner-up, respectively, clash today at Naval Reserve Field.

Ridden by Bill Hartack, Our Josie, the 9-5 favorite, ran the 7 furlongs in 1:28 4/5 over a muddy track and paid $5.80 to backers in the crowd estimated at 15,000.

Milana Jean finished second, one and one-quarter lengths ahead of Benton's April. Unique Roman, the early leader, finished fourth. Unique Roman held the lead until the final turn when Our Josie, second most of the way, went in front and drew away from the eighth-horse field.

The winner earned $11,250.

Paul Richards Dissatisfied With Houston

Threatens To Start Overhauling Colts

HOUSTON (AP) — Paul Richards threatened Monday to start a major overhaul of his Houston Colts.

"We're not playing major league baseball," said the general manager of the National League club that has lost 18 of its last 21 games.

Richards reacted to Sunday's split of a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs this way:

"It was sickening the way we kicked the ball around." The Colts committed five errors in the first game but won a 5-4 decision on three home runs. Then they added four more errors to their record while losing the 4-1 nightcap.

About the only man who was not bothered by the rash of errors was Hal Woodeshick, the winner of the first game. The left-hander has a 4-7 record and the Colts have made 14 errors in the four games he has won.

Richards announced a four-player reshuffle five minutes after the second game was over.

He recalled pitcher Jim Umbrecht and catcher Jim Campbell from the Oklahoma City farm club and optioned Dave Giusti and catcher Merritt Ranew to the Class AAA farm club.

"I may have 25 new players around here before long if we can find them," Richards said.

Dallas Fires Littlefield

Former Pilot May Remain As Hurler

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Dick Littlefield, former major league baseball pitcher, has been fired as manager of Dallas-Fort Worth in the American Association. Ranger General Manager Ray Johnston said Monday.

Johnston said Littlefield may be retained on the pitching staff. The general manager did not indicate a successor to Littlefield.

Dallas-Fort Worth, the association's last-place team, wound up a four-game series with Indianapolis Sunday night in which it broke even. Johnston remained in town for the clash between the association All-Stars and Indianapolis Tuesday.

Littlefield accompanied Ranger players not participating in the All-Star game home Sunday night. Johnston said he notified Littlefield he was relieved of his duties as manager before he departed.

Littlefield had served this year as player manager but pitched only occasionally. The 36-year-old southpaw was in the majors from 1950 through 1958 playing with New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Milwaukee in the National League, and St. Louis, Detroit, Chicago, Baltimore and Boston in the American.

Littlefield joined the American Association in 1953 at Wichita. He was with Louisville in 1959 and spent 1960 with Louisville and Indianapolis.

Game Set Wednesday

The Braves and the Tigers of the Dapper Dan Farm League will meet Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., at Allegany Field, it was announced last night by John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh.

PIPE DREAM? — Sir Frank Packer, owner of the Gretel, the Australian challenger for the America's Cup, international yachting trophy, looks thoughtfully serious as he lights his trusty pipe on arrival at Newport, R.I., off which the yacht races will be sailed.

Gentile Gains Spotlight With Clutch Homers

Wins Three Games, Hikes Total To 24

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Gentile's 46 homers last season went virtually unnoticed because Roger Maris slammed 61 and Mickey Mantle 54. This year, the Baltimore slugger is making 'em sit up and take notice.

Gentile has walked three home runs, each a game-winner, since last Tuesday's All-Star game and moved to within two of the leader, Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels. Wagner, who hit one last week, has 26 and Gentile 24.

Maris, the New York Yankees' star, had a pair and tied Detroit's Norm Cash for third place. Each has 23.

In the batting race, pistol Pete Runnels of Boston has opened a seven-point lead over Manny Jimenez, Kansas City's rookie outfielder. Runnels picked up one point to 341 in last week's games while Jimenez dropped five to 334. Runnels had eight hits in 23 tries while Jimenez collected only five safeties in 19 times at bat.

Norm Siebert of Kansas City remained in third place despite a three-point drop to 316. He had seven hits in 25 trips. Floyd Robinson of the Chicago White Sox climbed one notch to fourth as a result of a five-point pickup to 315. He turned in a 6-for-14 performance. Joe Cunningham, also of the White Sox, held fifth place at 310.

Rudolph Holds Los Angeles To Four Hits

Homer By Thomas Spoils Shutout In Fast Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don Rudolph pitched a four-hitter and Bob Johnson drove in three runs with a homer and single Monday as the Washington Senators defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-1.

The game was the fastest ever played at Chavez Ravine. It was all over in 1 hour, 32 minutes.

Rudolph (3-3) let the Angels get only one man as far as second base until Lee Thomas spoiled his shutout with a home run in the eighth. Rudolph struck out three and didn't walk a man.

Loser Ted Bowsfield (5-4) held the Senators hitless the first three innings and faced only 10 men.

Then with one out in the fourth, Johnson slammed his seventh homer of the season.

By losing, the Angels slipped into a second-place tie with the Cleveland Indians, who were idle.

Clay Courts Tennis Tournament Postponed

CHICAGO (AP) — Opening round matches in the National Clay Courts Tennis Tournament were postponed Monday because of rain.

Tournament officials said the postponement will cause no difficulty in winding up the tournament Sunday. However, further rain delays might force earlier starting times during the rest of the week.

Most of the stars had reported, including Karen Hantze Susman, surprise Wimbledon winner, and Chuck McKinley the No. 1 seed in the men's division, who helped the U.S. Davis Cup team defeat Canada in Cleveland over the weekend.

Senators Get Lock In Dale Long Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators announced Monday they had obtained outfielder Don Lock, a 6 foot 2 inch long ball hitter, as part of the deal on July 11 that sent First Baseman Dale Long to the New York Yankees.

Lock, 25, is now with the Yankees' Richmond, Va., farm club of the International League. He is to join the Senators in Chicago Tuesday for the two-night double-header against the White Sox.

Lock hit 29 homers for Richmond last year and has 13 so far this season. The Yankees originally signed him in 1958 from Wichita University.

Pittsburgh Signs Jim Tabor's Son

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates announced the signing of two free agent players Monday, an infielder and a pitcher, to minor league contracts.

The infielder is Jim Tabor Jr., 18, the son of the former Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Phillies third baseman, a six-footer, he weighs 175 and bats and throws right-handed. He is a resident of Palo Alto, Calif.

The pitcher is southpaw Dick Taaffe, who stands 6-1 and weighs 175. He lives in Millburn, N.J., and was graduated from high school last month.

Gary Player Predicts 272 Will Win PGA Tourney

To Start Thursday, 177 Pros To Compete

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP) — Gary Player, the 1961 Masters champion, says it will take a 272 to win the 44th Professional Golf Association Tournament next weekend on the 7,045-yard Aronimink Golf Club course.

Player was among the first of 177 pros to converge on Aronimink for practice rounds before the PGA starts Thursday.

"The course is beautiful," said Player after turning in a par 70. "There are no tricky features to detract from a good shot. Under ideal conditions, discounting rain or wind that might change things, I believe 272 can win it."

Newtown Square, a town of some 500 in Delaware County just outside Philadelphia, has had little rain in weeks—and this has dried out the rough, giving the golfers another assist.

Aronimink's pro Joe Capello said that because of the drought, "The rough is no problem. It's so dry now that anyone can hit out of it. But if it rains for a couple of days, the rough will get lush and thick and I'll put my estimate back up again."

Capello originally predicted a 274 will be needed to win, now agrees with Player that it will take 272.

Ford Notches 8th Triumph Of Campaign

Athletics Avert Shutout In Ninth, Pfister Loses 7th

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Whitey Ford posted his eighth victory and the New York Yankees tightened their grip on first place in the American League by defeating the Kansas City Athletics 3-1 Monday.

An error by Bill Consolo paved the way for New York's first two runs, which were unearned. With one out in the second inning Elston Howard on second and Hector Lopez on first, second baseman Jerry Lumpe fielded a bouncer off the bat of Cletis Boyer, but Consolo bobbled the throw to second.

Howard scored and Lopez took third, subsequently scoring on Ford's sacrifice fly.

In posting victory No. 8 against five losses, Ford had to have ninth inning help from Jim Bouton.

Danny Pfister (1-7) was the losing pitcher. He pitched eight innings, allowing the Yankees all seven of their hits.

Gretel To Receive Land, Sea Welcome

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—Gretel, Australia's sleek challenger in the Americas cup races, will be given a gala land and sea welcome on arrival here, probably Thursday.

Fireboats pumping pouts of water, pleasure yachts, a Navy band and a welcoming committee will be on hand when the Gretel, accompanied by Vim and two Australian tenders, arrives.

Exact date and time of arrival has not been finally set, officials said Monday.

Sir Frank Parker and his crew will be escorted from port-of-call in a caravan of open cars led by a band playing "Waltzing Matilda."

Tom McLuckie, making his debut on the rubber for the Sports Shoppe, scattered seven hits and struck out nine. It was the 7th straight win for the Sports Shoppe.

The league leaders collected 24 hits, sparked by Ernie Nimmons' home and two singles for a perfect day and Bob Russell's four base knocks. Rookie Steve Green rapped a double and two singles and Van Parsons rapped a pair of two-base blows.

Manager John Crone had two hits for P.E., which suffered its fifteenth loss in 16 outings.

Paul Richards Dissatisfied With Houston

Threatens To Start Overhauling Colts

HOUSTON (AP) — Paul Richards threatened Monday to start a major overhaul of his Houston Colts.

"We're not playing major league baseball," said the general manager of the National League club that has lost 18 of its last 21 games.

Richards reacted to Sunday's split of a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs this way:

"It was sickening the way we kicked the ball around."

The Colts committed five errors in the first game but won a 5-4 decision on three home runs. Then they added four more errors to their record while losing the 4-1 nightcap.

About the only man who was not bothered by the rash of errors was Hal Woodeshick, the winner of the first game. The left-hander has a 4-7 record and the Colts have made 14 errors in the four games he has won.

Richards announced a four-player reshuffle five minutes after the second game was over.

He recalled pitcher Jim Umbricht and catcher Jim Campbell from the Oklahoma City farm club and optioned Dave Giusti and catcher Merritt Ranew to the Class AAA farm club.

"I may have 25 new players around here before long if we can find them," Richards said.

PIPE DREAM? — Sir Frank Packer, owner of the Gretel, the Australian challenger for the America's Cup, international yachting trophy, looks thoughtfully serious as he lights his trusty pipe on arrival at Newport, R.I., off which the yacht races will be sailed.

Gentile Gains Spotlight With Clutch Homers

Wins Three Games, Hikes Total To 24

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Gentile's 46 homers last season went virtually unnoticed because Roger Maris slammed 61 and Mickey Mantle 54. This year, the Baltimore slugger is making 'em sit up and take notice.

Gentile has walloped three home runs, each a game-winner, since last Tuesday's All-Star game and moved to within two of the leader, Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels. Wagner, who hit one last week, has 26 and Gentile 24.

Maris, the New York Yankees' star, had a pair and tied Detroit's Norm Cash for third place. Each has 23.

In the batting race, pistol Pete Runnels of Boston has opened a seven-point lead over Manny Jimenez, Kansas City's rookie outfielder. Runnels picked up one point to 341 in last week's games while Jimenez dropped five to 334. Runnels had eight hits in 23 tries while Jimenez collected only five safeties in 19 times at bat.

Norm Siebern of Kansas City remained in third place despite a three-point drop to 316. He had seven hits in 25 trips. Floyd Robinson of the Chicago White Sox climbed one notch to fourth as a result of a five-point pickup to 315. He turned in a 6-for-14 performance. Joe Cunningham, also of the White Sox, held fifth place at 310.

Rudolph Holds Los Angeles To Four Hits

Homer By Thomas Spoils Shutout In Fast Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don Rudolph pitched a four-hitter and Bob Johnson drove in three runs with a homer and single Monday as the Washington Senators defeated the Los Angeles Angels 4-1.

The game was the fastest ever played at Chavez Ravine. It was all over in 1 hour, 32 minutes.

Rudolph (3-3) let the Angels get only one man as far as second base until Lee Thomas spoiled his shutout with a home run in the eighth. Rudolph struck out three and didn't walk a man.

Loser Ted Bowsfield (5-4) held the Senators hitless the first three innings and faced only 10 men. Then with one out in the fourth, Johnson slammed his seventh homer of the season.

By losing, the Angels slipped into a second-place tie with the Cleveland Indians, who were idle.

Clay Courts Tennis Tourney Postponed

CHICAGO (AP) — Opening round matches in the National Clay Courts Tennis Tournament were postponed Monday because of rain.

Tournament officials said the postponement will cause no difficulty in winding up the tournament Sunday. However, further rain delays might force earlier starting times during the rest of the week.

Most of the stars had reported, including Karen Hantze Susman, surprise Wimbledon winner, and Chuck McKinley, the No. 1 seed in the men's division, who helped the U.S. Davis Cup team defeat Canada in Cleveland over the weekend.

Senators Get Lock In Dale Long Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators announced Monday they had obtained outfielder Dale Long, a 6 foot 2 inch long ball hitter, as part of the deal on July 11 that sent First Baseman Dale Long to the New York Yankees.

Lock, 25, is now with the Yankees' Richmond, Va., farm club of the International League. He is to join the Senators in Chicago Tuesday for the two-night doubleheader against the White Sox.

Lock hit 29 homers for Richmond last year and has 13 so far this season. The Yankees originally signed him in 1958 from Wichita University.

Aronimink's pro Joe Capello said that because of the drought, "The rough is no problem. It's so dry now that anyone can hit out of it. But if it rains for a couple of days, the rough will get lush and thick and I'll put my estimate back up again."

Capello Moes was postponed on account originally predicted a 274 will be needed to win, now agrees with Player that it will take 272.

6 p. m. at Frostburg.

Dow Finsterwald, the 1958 PGA champ, said he does not think anyone will beat 276, a record low he set when he won it the first time it was medal play.

Arnold Palmer, just back from his record 276 victory in the British Open, is expected to get in plenty of practice this week readjusting to the larger American ball.

The PGA executive committee has announced that exceptions to golf rules will be allowed at the tournament this year. During the professional tour, the pros changed seven rules. However, the exceptions are annually abandoned during the PGA tournament.

Game Is Postponed

The game scheduled yesterday in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League between LaVale Cubs and account of wet grounds and is rescheduled for Wednesday, July 25, at Cresaptown.

Game Reset Today

The Bi-State Pony Baseball League game scheduled yesterday at Frostburg between West-lush and thick and I'll put my estimate back up again." Capello Moes was postponed on account originally predicted a 274 will be needed to win, now agrees with Player that it will take 272.

Store Manager Here Resigns

Grayson Solomon, manager of the Southern States Cumberland Cooperative for the past seven years, has resigned his post here to take a similar position with the Southern States Charleston, W. Va., Cooperative. He assumed his new duties yesterday.

Before coming to Cumberland, Solomon managed the Morgantown, W. Va., branch of the cooperative and previous to that he was in the Romney store.

John Kimble, Flintstone, will assume the duties of manager of the Cumberland store. He has been employed with the local outfit for the past ten years. He has served as a field service man with the firm for the last one and one-half years.

Other new officers, elected at a meeting at the All Ghan Shrine Country Club at which the chapter was reactivated, are Dr. William R. Wolverson, Cumberland, vice president, and Harold E. Eiland, Keyser, secretary-treasurer.

One of the groups first-act was to vote a donation of $50 to the University's Loyalty Permanent Endowment Fund.

Short talks were made by James H. Swadley Jr., Keyser, president of the University's Board of Governors and member of the chapter; David W. Jacobs, Morgantown, secretary of the Alumni Association; Judge David E. Cuppert Jr., Petersburg; Ralph J. Bean, Moorefield, former president of the West Virginia State Senate; William H. Loy, Romney, and Gene Gunning, Cumberland, the retiring president.

Other matters, including revision of the by-laws to create an executive committee composed of representatives of Bedford County, Pennsylvania; Allegany and Garrett counties, Maryland, and Mineral, Hampshire, Grant, Hardy and Pendleton counties, West Virginia, will be considered at another meeting to be held in Moorefield the latter part of August.

Water Report Made

The water level at Lake Gordon is four feet seven inches below the crest of the spillway and in Lake Koon one-fourth inch below, a report to the Mayor and Council by Ray Nixon, water plant foreman, showed yesterday.

Consumption for the week ending Sunday was 86,760,000 gallons compared to 104,020,000 the same period a year ago.

Subdivision Regulations Sent Builders

State Health Rules Listed

A list of State Department of Health laws and regulations concerning the subdivision of land and the provision of water supply and sewerage service, has been sent out to area builders, developers and land subdividers.

Gaylord Brooks, senior sanitarian for Allegany County Health Department, said the list contains procedures that builders are asked to adhere to and which the health department will enforce in the future.

He said the laws and regulations are coordinated with the county regulations and it is to the advantage of the builder, as well as the purchaser of property, to provide the services and facilities required by law.

A subdivision is defined as any tract or parcel of land divided into two or more lots for immediate or future sale or building development.

A review of the law and regulations follows:

Before a subdivision can be established, permitting the sale of lots on the building of houses, a subdivision plat must be recorded among the county land records.

The plat may not be recorded until the Deputy State Health officer has approved the method of providing for water supply and sewerage disposal.

The plat must show all subdivision information concerning street arrangements, building lines, lot dimensions, lot numbers, topography and sewerage and water installations as outlined in the regulations of the State Department of Health governing the subdivision of land in the counties of Maryland.

Where a public water supply or public sewerage installation is planned or required, the developer shall submit plans for such installation to the Bureau of Environmental Hygiene of the State Department of Health and receive a construction permit and approval of the plans as required by Section 372, Article 43 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, 1951 edition. If the installation is to be privately owned and operated the developer shall comply with the regulations of the Public Service Commission as required by article 23.

Appeals Are Heard In Circuit Court

Several criminal appeal cases were disposed of yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court before Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey.

George Dewey Cosner Jr., of RD 2, Williams Road, was found guilty of operating an auto on a revoked license and was sentenced to three months in the county jail.

Judge Cobey found the man not guilty of driving under the influence, a second such charge this year.

On June 21 Trial Magistrate Paul W. Barnett sentenced Cosner to six months in the Maryland House of Correction for operating a motor vehicle under the influence and fined him $100 and costs for driving on a revoked license.

The three-month sentence is effective June 22 when Cosner was taken to the county jail, Judge Cobey stipulated.

George W. Collins Jr., who appealed two concurrent one-year sentences in the House of Correction for motor vehicle violations and for assault in a hearing before Trial Magistrate Allan Weatherholt, yesterday pleaded guilty to assault on his mother and a motor vehicle violation.

Judge Cobey indicated that officials of Perry Point would be contacted in order to determine if Collins should be given treatment at that institution.

Meanwhile Collins was taken to the county jail pending a background report by James F. Lewis, state parole and probation officer.

The state dismissed one of the motor vehicle charges against Collins.

Ernest F. Wartzack, who was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail on May 28 by Magistrate Thomas Barton and also fined $50 in an assault case, yesterday was placed on probation without verification.

Noted Architect Will Address Business Units

Civic Leaders Are Urged To Attend

Dr. Milton Osborne, head of the Department of Architecture of Penn State University, will speak to businessmen and property owners in Cumberland's central business section tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the grill room of the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

He was invited to come here by the Downtown Cumberland Business Association of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, which has asked the Mayor and Council of Cumberland, the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission and the Cumberland Urban Renewal Agency to attend.

Invitations have also been issued to George Marcou and John R. Joyner, members of Blair and Stein Associates, planners for the City of Cumberland.

Invitations have been extended to some 125 business, civic and industrial leaders of the area.

Dr. Osborne was the leader in the "Gettysburg" program which provided a new appearance to the downtown section of that city.

The theme of the "Gettysburg" campaign was that "main streets" do not have to abdicate to the neon shops on the highways.

In Gettysburg, Dr. Osborne created a comprehensive architectural picture under which any property owner could tie in to create an attractive downtown section.

GOP Committee Endorses Beall, Anderson For Seats

J. Glenn Beall Jr. and Fred H. Anderson, who won nomination to the House of Delegates in the May 15 primary election, last night were endorsed by the County Republican State Central Committee for the unexpired terms of two delegates who died on successive days last week.

J. Wallace Close, chairman of the GOP committee, said that no decision was reached at the Republican headquarters, 1 North Liberty Street, last night on a nominee to be a candidate in November in place of the late Fred B. Driscoll, who had been renominated May 15.

Mr. Beall, a Frostburg insurance agent and son of U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, and Mr. Anderson, a Cumberland attorney, both were nominated May 15 in their first bids for public office. Mr. Beall led the ticket with 4,338 votes and Mr. Anderson pulled down the sixth nomination with 2,631 votes.

The GOP committee will submit the two nominations to Governor J. Millard Tawes, who is obligated under state law to accept their recommendations and appoint the two republicans to the unexpired terms in the House of Delegates.

As delegates they will join two other Republicans, Noel Speer Cook, Frostburg, and Lester B. Reed, Mt. Savage, who were nominated for new terms. The County Delegation in Annapolis also includes two Democrats, William Walsh, who seeks election to the State Senate in November, and Thomas F. Conlon Jr., who is running for a second term in the House of Delegates.

Mr. Driscoll, who died suddenly in Baltimore July 9, was third in the Republican primary May 15. Delegate Estel C. Kelley, who died July 19 here, did not win renomination to a fourth term.

State Senator Charles M. See, who decided to seek return to the House of Delegates this year, was second in the GOP primary.

Mr. Close did not indicate when the committee would meet again.

Local Youth Fined $50 In Fatal Crash

Petit Jury Hears Criminal Appeal

An Allegany County Circuit Court petit jury, which heard a criminal appeal case yesterday, found guilty a 16-year-old local youth who was one of the drivers in a two-car fatal accident April 15 in LaVale.

John P. Moffatt III, of 743 1/2 Fayette Street, was fined $50 by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey, who presided in the case appealed by the state after the trial Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt on May 12.

Two days after the accident, William T. Martin, 43, of 719 LaVale Terrace, died in Sacred Heart Hospital.

State Police said the victim had been operating a car on Grant Road and was going onto U. S. Route 40 into the eastbound lane of traffic.

His car was hit in the rear by the car operated by young Moffatt whose vehicle careened into a nearby ditch.

Donald W. Mason, deputy state's attorney, presented the state's case yesterday charging Moffatt with speed greater than reasonable.

Prosecution witnesses included Tfc. Joseph Helmstetter, state trooper, who investigated the accident; Ralph Scarlett Jr. and George Swann Jr., who were operating their cars in the vicinity at the time of the fatal crash.

Moffatt, Richard E. Greer and Richard N. Lehr, two school companions of the defendant, who were passengers in the one car, also testified during the hearing.

Attorney John W. Robb entered a plea of not guilty for Moffatt.

Boys Face Hearing In Coin Theft

Three area youths will be given a hearing this morning in Juvenile Court in the theft of a collection of rare coins.

The youths, ages 16 and 14, were picked up over the weekend and they admitted stealing the coins from a new home Howard Harclerode is constructing on Weires Avenue in LaVale.

The coins are valued at $300 and the youths told police they cashed them for their face value in various places in Cumberland and LaVale.

The youths, who reside in Slabtown and Morantown, were picked up Saturday by Sgt. William F. Baker of the State Police.

Yesterday, County Investigator Edwin R. Lilly and Tfc. Milton G. Hart of the State Police questioned the boys and took statements from them.

Authorities have asked residents in the area to check their coins to see if any may be collector's type. If any are found, authorities should be notified.

Young Eyer, who is a member of the National Honor Society and the Hi-Y will be president of the senior class this fall and is active in the Youth Fellowship at First Presbyterian Church.

This summer he is attending classes at Ohio State University through the National Science Foundation Program as an outstanding student in science.

Weigelt is a member of the Science Club at Fort Hill and belongs to the choir and glee club and is vice president of the Thespian Society. He serves as an acolyte at Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Other participants from local and area schools include Regina Jolley, Ursuline Academy; John Milbrada, LaSalle; James Nelson, Rideley; George Connor, Mt. Savage; Dennis Lennox, Beall; Louise Webster, Valley; Donna Folk, Piedmont; Vincent Laffey, St. Peter's, Westernport; David Kalbaugh, Bruce; William Rogers, Romney; Charles McCort, Fort Ashby; Cathy Groves, Petersburg, and Caroline Haslacker, Maysville.

Last years winner was William Cowherd, who was graduated this past June from Allegany High. He was accompanied by Eugene Harris, member of the faculty at Allegany.

The 1960 winner was Rose Ann Weber, graduate of Fort Hill and the 1959 winner was Ruth Fisher, Valley High School who continued her studies at Frostburg State Teachers College as did Miss Weber.

The selection of the seniors was based on a science questionnaire. The questionnaire included grades received in general science, biology, chemistry, physics and algebra II as well as their special interest in science; special science project they did in school; the career they expect to follow and a written report on why they would like to attend the conference.

Fatal Crash Truck Removed

The tractor-trailer involved in a Pennsylvania Turnpike crash yesterday is pulled out of the Laurel Hill Tunnel near Somerset, Elmer Burnsvold, 78, and his wife, Maude, 75, of Tampa, Fla., were killed in the auto-truck collision in the tunnel. Of the 23 persons treated for shock and smoke inhalation, 12 were hospitalized. (AP Photofax)

Tunnel Crash On Turnpike Kills Couple

23 Others Treated Because Of Smoke

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—An elderly out-of-state couple was killed Monday in a fiery accident inside the Laurel Hill Tunnel of the Pennsylvania Turnpike and at least 23 persons were taken to a hospital, State Police report.

The dead were identified as Elmer J. Burnsvold, 78, of Tampa, Fla., and his wife, Maude, about 75.

State police said the couple were killed in a collision between a car and a tractor-trailer hauling steel.

A fire caused by the collision choked the tunnel with dense smoke, hampering efforts of police and firefighters to untangle the resulting traffic jam and reach the accident. But firemen extinguished the blaze some 80 minutes after it began.

At least 23 persons were taken to the Somerset Community Hospital for treatment of shock and smoke inhalation and at least 12 of them were hospitalized, a hospital spokesman said.

Traffic was temporarily diverted from the turnpike to other routes by-passing the tunnel.

Charges Made In W. Va. Road Investigation

Laxity, Inaction Cited By Wright

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charges of laxity and inaction were leveled Monday at West Virginia and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads during a congressional hearing on the state's highway practices.

Acting Chairman Jim Wright, D-Tex., of a House investigating subcommittee said procedures followed in acquiring right-of-way for road construction at Beckley, W. Va., were "incredibly lax."

Wright said the Bureau of Public Roads was advised of West Virginia procedural deficiencies as early as 1955 but failed to take decisive action.

He said if practices used in acquiring land at Beckley were followed throughout the interstate network the total excess cost to the nation could go well into the billions.

Wright, opening the second week of hearings by a House public works subcommittee on West Virginia road building, said it has become "painfully evident" that procedures followed in acquiring the Beckley properties were "incredibly lax."

Subcommittee investigators produced figures to show that 34 properties acquired for widening a 1,500-foot stretch of road at Beckley will cost about $746,750 when all settlements are completed.

Projecting this figure for a mile of right-of-way acquisition would indicate a rate of $2,628,560, John P. Constandy, assistant chief counsel for the subcommittee, said.

Wright said the committee is aware that many states have "splendid and efficient highway programs." But, he added, the investigators cannot let up until corrective measures are taken to "prevent recurrences of this type of abuse shown in West Virginia."

Wright said testimony has shown the political spoils system runs rampant in West Virginia and that fee appraisers on whose judgment state and federal money was spent in acquisition of property lacked professional qualifications and specific training.

John B. Thomas, 405 South Oakwood, was awarded $11,049 for part of the lawn taken from in front of his white-frame L-shaped residence. This again was on the basis of a series of appraisals and reappraisals and revised by Lawrence E. Thompson, chief appraiser for right-of-way in West Virginia's Road Commission.

Thomas had paid only $12,500 for the entire property two years before. In an affidavit introduced at the hearing, Thomas said he "guessed" the $11,049 was more than the taken property was worth, but not, he said, when you consider the prices paid by the state for neighboring parcels of land.

Local High School Seniors To Attend Atom Conclave

Two local high school seniors have been selected to attend the National Youth Conference On The Atom November 8-10 in Chicago, Ill.

Garland Johnston, district manager of the Potomac Edison Company, sponsor of the contest to select the two seniors, notified Jack A. Petry, supervisor of high schools in Allegany County, that John Eyer, Coverwood, LaVale, a senior at Allegany High School, and William Weigelt, senior at Fort Hill, who lives at 342 Reservoir Avenue, are the selectees.

The two seniors who will be accompanied to Chicago by William M. Leeson, science-physicist teacher at Fort Hill High School, were selected from a group of 15 seniors of local and area high schools.

The selection of the seniors was based on a science questionnaire. The questionnaire included grades received in general science, biology, chemistry, physics and algebra II as well as their special interest in science; special science project they did in school; the career they expected to follow and a written report on why they would like to attend the conference.

GOP Committee Endorses Beall, Anderson For Seats

J. Glenn Beall Jr. and Fred H. Anderson, who won nomination to the House of Delegates in the May 15 primary election, last night were endorsed by the County Republican State Central Committee for the unexpired terms of two delegates who died on successive days last week.

J. Wallace Close, chairman of the GOP committee, said that no decision was reached at the Republican headquarters, 1 North Liberty Street, last night on a nominee to be a candidate in November in place of the late Fred B. Driscoll, who had been renominated May 15.

Mr. Beall, a Frostburg insurance agent and son of U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, and Mr. Anderson, a Cumberland attorney, both were nominated May 15 in their first bids for public office. Mr. Beall led the ticket with 4,398 votes and Mr. Anderson pulled down the sixth nomination with 2,631 votes.

The GOP committee will submit the two nominations to Governor J. Millard Tawes, who is obligated under state law to accept their recommendations and appoint the two republicans to the unexpired terms in the House of Delegates.

As delegates they will join two other Republicans, Noel Speir Cook, Frostburg, and Lester B. Reed, Mt. Savage, who were nominated for new terms. The County Delegation in Annapolis also includes two Democrats, William Walsh, who seeks election to the State Senate in November, and Thomas F. Conlon Jr., who is running for a second term in the House of Delegates.

Mr. Driscoll, who died suddenly in Baltimore July 9, was third in the Republican primary May 15. Delegate Estel C. Kelley, who died July 19 here, did not win renomination to a fourth term.

State Senator Charles M. See, who decided to seek return to the House of Delegates this year, was second in the GOP primary.

Mr. Close did not indicate when the committee would meet again.

Lonaconing Pays Off Sole Debt

Town Charter Revision Studied

The Town of Lonaconing is completely out of debt as a result of action taken at last night's meeting of the Mayor and Council.

During the meeting, the Mayor and Council decided to pay off a $3,000 loan to the Liberty Trust Company.

The action puts the town of 2,077 citizens on a pay as you go basis.

During the session, Mayor W. Moyer supplied councilmen with copies of a model charter issued by the Maryland Municipal League and asked them to study the plan.

He said Dr. Carl N. Everstine, director of the Department of Legislative Reference, has suggested a number of changes in the model charter.

Mayor Moyer said the charter should be adopted by April 1, 1963, deadline for its inclusion in the new codification of the public laws of Allegany County.

James Berry, street commissioner, reported the completion of several street and sewer repair jobs, including the installation of a trap in a Main Street Sewer which has been the source of an odor problem for some time.

Town officials will investigate the possibility of taking into the town system a private road in the Alexander Park section which has been a source of complaints during dry weather.

Police Commissioner Alex E. Patton said he has had complaints of youths riding on bicycles on town streets after dark without head or tail lights.

He said police will take action on the bicycle complaints, which include reports of bicycle riding on sidewalks.

Tunnel Crash On Turnpike Kills Couple

23 Others Treated Because Of Smoke

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—An elderly out-of-state couple was killed Monday in a fiery accident inside the Laurel Hill Tunnel of the Pennsylvania Turnpike and at least 23 persons were taken to a hospital, State Police report.

The dead were identified as Elmer J. Burnsvold, 78, of Tampa, Fla., and his wife, Maude, about 75.

State police said the couple were killed in a collision between a car and a tractor-trailer hauling steel.

A fire caused by the collision choked the tunnel with dense smoke, hampering efforts of police and firefighters to untangle the resulting traffic jam and reach the accident. But firemen extinguished the blaze some 80 minutes after it began.

At least 23 persons were taken to the Somerset Community Hospital for treatment of shock and smoke inhalation and at least 12 of them were hospitalized, a hospital spokesman said.

Traffic was temporarily diverted from the turnpike to other routes by-passing the tunnel.

Charges Made In W. Va. Road Investigation

Laxity, Inaction Cited By Wright

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charges of laxity and inaction were leveled Monday at West Virginia and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads during a congressional hearing on the state's highway practices.

Acting Chairman Jim Wright, D-Tex., of a House investigating subcommittee said procedures followed in acquiring right-of-way for road construction at Beckley, W. Va., were "incredibly lax."

Wright said the Bureau of Public Roads was advised of West Virginia procedural deficiencies as early as 1955 but failed to take decisive action.

He said if practices used in acquiring land at Beckley were followed throughout the interstate network the total excess cost to the nation could go well into the billions.

Wright, opening the second week of hearings by a House public works subcommittee on West Virginia road building, said it has become "painfully evident" that procedures followed in acquiring the Beckley properties were "incredibly lax."

Subcommittee investigators produced figures to show that 34 properties acquired for widening a 1.5-mile stretch of road at Beckley will cost about $746,750 when all settlements are completed.

Projecting this figure for a mile of right-of-way acquisition would indicate a rate of $2,628,560, John P. Constandy, assistant chief counsel for the subcommittee, said.

Wright said the committee is aware that many states have "splendid and efficient highway programs." But, he added, the investigators cannot let up until corrective measures are taken to "prevent recurrences of this type of abuse shown in West Virginia."

Wright said testimony has shown the political spoils system runs rampant in West Virginia and that fee appraisers on whose judgment state and federal money was spent in acquisition of property lacked professional qualifications and specific training.

John B. Thomas, 405 South Oakwood, was awarded $11,049 for part of the lawn taken from in front of his white-frame L-shaped residence. This again was on the basis of a series of appraisals and reappraisals and revised by Lawrence E. Thompson, chief appraiser for right-of-way in West Virginia's Road Commission.

Thomas had paid only $12,500 for the entire property two years before. In an affidavit introduced at the hearing, Thomas said he "guessed" the $11,049 was more than the taken property was worth, but not, he said, when you consider the prices paid by the state for neighboring parcels of land.

Local Youth Fined $50 In Fatal Crash

Petit Jury Hears Criminal Appeal

An Allegany County Circuit Court petit jury, which heard a criminal appeal case yesterday, found guilty a 16-year-old local youth who was one of the drivers in a two-car fatal accident April 15 in LaVale.

John P. Moffatt III, of 743½ Fayette Street, was fined $50 by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey, who presided in the case appealed by the state after the youth was found not guilty by Trial Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt on May 12.

Two days after the accident, William T. Martin, 43, of 719 LaVale Terrace, died in Sacred Heart Hospital.

State Police said the victim had been operating a car on Grant Road and was going onto U. S. Route 40 into the eastbound lane of traffic.

His car was hit in the rear by the car operated by young Moffatt whose vehicle careened into a nearby ditch.

Donald W. Mason, deputy state's attorney, presented the state's case yesterday charging Moffatt with speed greater than reasonable.

Prosecution witnesses included Tfc. Joseph Helmstetter, state trooper, who investigated the accident; Ralph Scarlett Jr., and George Swann Jr., who were operating their cars in the vicinity at the time of the fatal crash.

Moffatt, Richard E. Greer and Richard N. Lehr, two school companions of the defendant, who were passengers in the one car, also testified during the hearing.

Attorney John W. Robb entered a plea of not guilty for Moffatt.
